poetry I believe is part of life, and it is life. I loved poetry since i was in elementary school grade 3. my diary is my best companion and every thing about me is an adventure, where so many fascinating things are unfold in the diary. I started poetry as a hobby with an intrinsic motivation, and still sailing through. single and engaged, believes in the universe and its wonderful creature. i am inspired by the word of God and I live by the bio, 'only God can judge me'

The Truth

- 'you are in a very big kitchen here with a very hot fire, and I suggest you be very quick to put some truth on the stove'

- 'the truth is the main ingredient with which I cook, and by the time we finish you today we will have a barbecue up there'.
