Autumn Rose Wilson(02071997)

I love to write poems.

I have been writing poems for years now.

I'm a young writer and I love doing it get my mind off of things when I'm sad and feeling down a lot of the poems a post are going to be about me and how I feel. mmmm you might hear me talking about a boy or a girl but most of the time it's going to be about a girl but sometimes you will see me talking about a boy so that's my brothers or my boyfriend. I go to Seabreeze High School. I'm a freshman other known as fresh-meet.

A Lonely Girl

A girl that no one talks to or talks about

The girl that stays to herself and doesn't care about a thing but just getting her homework done and school work done

A girl that has a boyfriend but she doesn't think he loves her

The girl who knows everything about school and knows nothing about herself

Falling In Love All Over Again

When I saw you the first time I will stay with you for life

A girl named after a family member her name is Autumn and she didn't care about you

Or how much you can come to the library in Ormond Beach

She said that I love you and I will always love you

She said that I have to raise awareness about the other thing I heard about the other day

And you let her down

You said that it was just a part of life

But to her you were everything She ask for

Going To Harry Potter World

Here magic is everywhere

Here darkness is the big thing

Life here is good untill a person who should not be named comes along

He is the most bad one here

When I was little he tried killing me but a survived it

Harry Potter

He will over come the drake magic

A boy named Harry Potter

Riding a broom and holding his wand

Remember that he is very important to us

You can always count on Harry Potter

Please don't feel like you are going there to meet him

Out and about with his to best friends

To the wand store to get Ron new wand

To the library to study all types of magic Eating lunch and dinner at Hogwarts school

Riding off in to the night

I'Am Drug Free

I'am drug free there is no drugs in me because smoking can kill many people die everyday from smoking because they are dumb many people are drug free and I'am one them this week at my school is drug free week

so here is my real poem

{i'm drug free yes that right i'm drug free drugs will kill me but words will not i'm drug free yes that's right no drugs for me because i don' like to use them }

Music: Alone By Autumn Wilson 2013

sitting in a room by herself thinking about her life and why bad things always come her way she stays to herself at school nobody asks if she is OK she cry's herself to sleep at night the teacher sees her pain but she doesn't say a thing to her sometimes she wishes she was never born she is sitting in a room by herself thinking about who am I and why am I here but she keeps on trying to fit in a world she cant fit in she try's to make friends everyday all the people she meets just push her around when she get's to school she does her work the best best she can she keeps the pain inside her cause of she trys to tell someone it always fails

People

people come and people go people change you for the good or bad you know if people were nice we would all get along

Poem About South Sudan

There are somethings about life that i dont understand like people dying for what they believe in of because they are poor and have little to no food the kids have nothing but they are always happy but we have everything but yet we are sad and mean to each other

The Girl With Everything In Heart

There's a girl that was everything in heart but nothing in hands
A girl with hopes and dreams but doesn't know how to get there I see a girl with sadness in her eyes but seems to be happy
A girl that is alone because her one and only family member just passed away a week ago
A girl that doesn't know much about love but knows a lot about hate
A girl that doesn't talk to anyone but has a lot to say I see this girl go through life day by day without knowing god and know will tell her
I talk to this girl and tell her about god and now she not alone
She knows that she has a heavenly father that loves her dearly
Now this girl is full of hope and has more dreams then she ever knew before

The Only Rose That Hasn'T Been Picked

There is a rose it's the last one and it was left there to die

The red rose is dying and it is not red anymore

But do not to worry there will be a new red rose in the morning

God gives us gifts and we are happy

The gift is a red rose

The Poem About Me

A girl that has a lot of friends but feels alone

A girl that can't stand up for herself and her teachers stand up for her a girl with lots of dreams and hope but yet nothing has come to her yet a girl that has everything but yet has nothing she has a loving boyfriend and a caring family but yet feels so unwanted

Where Is The Love?

Where is the love when you need it the most is like the summer sky it just gose away over time the way i look at you is the way to would look at a wall people say you guys should date but way i tell you you have a loving and caring boyfriend but yet you say he hates you if he hates you he wouldn't be there when you just fallen and have no help to get up he wouldn't be there and hold you when you are crying but all this he dose because he loves you

Wove Is Here To Stay

I can see a girl with a lots of love a boy that is happy to have her as a loving and caring girlfriend a girl who is always sad at night because he is mostly never at school now she knows that she is and always was loved
