Candymarie Nevin(12-26-1986)

I'm 29 I use to attend Lincoln University which it was a new experience for me. I was going to college with my best friend, Scarlet. I have long, Red curly hair and I have blue eyes. I'm in perfect shape I was a swimmer in high school and I'm a very friendly and out going person i write peoms and short stories.

A Simple Smile

Everytime you look at me you see nothing but a simple smile

My smile hides all the pain i feel deep inside

My smile is a simple cover up to show people its going to be alright

But when there nobody is around me that smile turns into a frown and my pain comes out

With each day that passes that smile you see changed into so much pain and suffering behind a chamber

As i fall farther into this dark cold world of depression all you see is my simple smile

As i pretend that everything is normal with that simple smile that hides pain so very well

As i cry late at night hoping nobody can hear my cries

As i simply smile and pretend to be joyful and happy my smile hides a deep secret of pain

As i walk by i flashing a smile at everybody as my soul disappear into that cold dark place

As my soul disappears into this dark place of depression and sadness

All my friends and family see a simple smile that lasted forever but only if they knew that deep inside me i was hurting.

Alone And Lost

As I sit here in my own world trying to figure out where in belong

As I watch everybody life's past by as mine stands still

Facing that everybody has a place to call home but all I have is emptyness

Wishing I knew where I belong so lost and unsure of who I'm Trying to find the path that makes me someone and not invisible

Wondering where I belong and if I deserve happiness or just sadness

As i close my eyes and let my mind wonder into my head trying to find my path

Sometimes I feel like I will always be forgotten no matter where I maybe

Knowing that all my paths have come to this world of loneliness

Facing time tell one day I'll be someone special and not a empty shell that is forgotten.

Black Sheep

Every time you look at me you see nothing but a out cast

When I need help I'm invisable to your eye like no other

When i speak you play no attendion to me

As time flys by I become a tiny speck to your eye

I'm nothing but a black sheep to this world

I try to move up but all you do is shoot me down

I tried to justified myself to you but you deleted me from your eye sight

I do my best but you just mark me as a out casted

I fiend for you to noticed me but all you do is label me as a black sheep

I'm tired of all these label you put on people to make yourself feel better about yourself.

Just relized this i maybe a black sheep to your eye but once i am gone you will regret the way you treated me

Cutting All The Ties

It time for me to become someone no more letting people drag me down
Time for me to dropp all commuication with people who don't matter to me
Time for me become the woman i can become and leave all my mistake behind
No more letting people run all over and treat me like crap.
I'm ready to settle down and have the life i deserve by cutting all the ties
Time to move forward and not go backwards
I have to let go of all my mistake i have made in past and forget all that deserve to be forgotten.
My time as come to become a adult no more letting people put me down and hurt like they intend to do.
My voice will be heard just wait your turn
If your holding me back you will be forgotten so remember that.

Endless Fears

As I remember all those promises you seem to tell Wondering why you can't look passed those fears that linger
Knowing time will only tell before the truth is reveled
Looking at you in disgust because you're back to your old ways Wanting you to see what you have right in front of you Before you lose it someone who will not judge you
You for who you really are as you promised me that your Going to be there for me no matter what
But in relatively your nothing but someone who lost
As I try to look passed everything you once promised Knowing your lost in this world that you created on your own Facing all those demons that you addiction created by taking over you
All you're promised you once said doesn't matter anymore
Because I see clearly now your addiction has taken control of you
Knowing I lost you to this addiction you once conquered

Fears

Everybody has fears to overcome that just the way of life

People could try to burrie those fear deep upon there soul, But sooner or later those fears will take over who there are

If nobody had fears then they wouldn't be able to be driffrent they would be like everybody else

Fears hold the key every human being soul because everybody had some sort of fear to overcome

Even if it just little one you have to overcome it are you will never be happy because that fear will always linger upon your soul

Fears make everybody uquire but extortary and makes everybody one of kind

Fears come in many formats but only you could understand those fears that linger upon your soul

Fears are the way of life making us try harder and prove that we could do it

Fears will either break you are make you it all depends on what you desire and how you could overcome them

Fighting For Our Rights

As we walk the streets people seem to judge who we

As we live are love life in secret because of are fears

As time comes when we have to face are fears of being judged

No more hiding are true selfs because of who we are

As we live this secret life wanting to be judged upon who we are and not what we are Facing people as they label us upon what they see and not what they know

As they consider us as sinners because of are sexuality without evening know who we really are

As the day comes closer for us to speak up and show them we not afraid anymore

As we take the first step to come out of the closet and show them we are just as normal as they are

To prove them that we are people and should not be shoved aside because of our sexuality

As we take the leap into the fire to speak out for the ones who are afraid of being judged because of there life style.

As we let our sexuality stand and fight for the right to be free wirhout judgment

Love Is Blind

Love is my world but my heart is dark and cold

Feeling so helpless feeling like my dreams have been crushed

As i look back and think where did i go wrong

Feeling so empty feeling so lost feeling like my world has come to a stop

As i watch all my feeling disappear into the darkness as i let go of everything i once felt feeling like my love has turned cold and heartless without a glow of hope

As i blind fold myself from the love I once felt as it shield me from disappointment i felt deep inside

Wishing how could i ever love again as I look at you and say goodbye

Feeling so empty trying to erase all this pain that lingers deep upon my heart

Feeling miserable trying to find that love I once felt as it disappear into the night once again

Wishing I could feel that love and devotion I once felt

Mirrors

Have you ever wonder if there a whole another world beyond those mirrors every time you look in the mirror that question always seems to go through my mind

Even through that world is the opposite of our world what if on the other side hold the secret of everything that doesnt make since from relatively unknowing what lays beyond the glass you call a mirror as you stare into those mirrors can someone be watching you from behind those glass windows called your mirror nobody knowa what lays beyond that parallel universe wondering if you crossed into this mirror if things would be different.

Motherly Love

Motherly love

You walked into my life to chance of loving me

No matter what I did you stood by me like a mother should

As I cry late at night you held me close to your heart

When I need a mother you never turn me away

Even when I made wrong decision you stood by my side loving me unconditionally

As I walked in and out your life you never once judge me for whom I became

As you stood there watching me from far and wide you knew I'll be alright

When I needed a friend you were there with open arms

When I need a role model you stood there ready to show me

As I grew up you pushed me to the limit to become my own

As I look back and think I'm glad to have someone like you in my life.

My Shiny Star

You are the best thing that ever happen to you mom you light the path to my heart with your smile

You brought you mom to relative when you were born into this world you are your mom pride and joy and my shiny star

You are an angel that guided your mom in the right path

You are my shiny that bring joy in my life

You are my shiny star that just takes my breath away

You are the most beautiful and elegant star that shines so bright

When I held you in my arms for the very first time I knew i loved you

You are the greatest gift that a aunt could ask for, You are a one of kind that stole my love

Your my niece the one I treasure and who i love dearly

You are my shiny star that brings joy to my life when your near.

Candymarie Nevin

One Love

When I look at you I see our love has fallen

As I watch our love turn cold as ice

Feeling so helpless like i'm about loose my one love

As I watch you slip away without warning because our love has fallen

I watch you look and yearning for another when I thought I was the one

Knowing that I lost you to another feeling so alone and afraid of my next move

As I watch everything we once build falls into the darkness with no return as I loose my one love

My hearts breaks and I loose all meaning of love and devotion as I watch my one love disappear into the night.

Candymarie Nevin

Saying Goodbye

As i look into your brown eyes and say goodbye to all the time we shared no misery, no more angry, no more sorrow just pain thats control over my heart

As i slowly watch myself give up on everything i once believed in and desirer these feeling of emptyness and confusing takes over facing reality that our love has faded without a doubt hoping we still have a chance as i watch you choose the path that you desirer hoping our love has a fighting chance it time for me to say goodbye and hoping our love finds it way back into my heart you once were everything i desirer now your a just a memory that always seems to playback hoping everything will be alright hoping are love can return now i see clearly as i was blind folded by the one thing I desirer the most now its gone no were to turn but let it be and see how far our love can go i once believed our love can conquer the world now im not so sure were your heart lays the loved we shared has been hurt in so many ways wondering if it will ever be true again now i must let you live your life hoping we will met again.

Candymarie Nevin

Second Chance

As you take that one step at a time to conquer that addiction

Feeling so lost and unaware and unknowing

What will happen next as I look pasted all the depreciation you seem to tell

As I watched you battle this sickness I see you changed

Not knowing what to expected but I see clearly now

After all those mistakes you made it becomes something to treasure

When I look at you I see someone who I couldn't count on

As I look closer I see someone who looks at me like someone special.

Some Where I Belong

As each days that passes i wonder where i belong

I see everybody living there life without a question in the world,

Just watching everybody pass me by trying to figure where i belong trying to see my life in somebody else eyes

Questioning who I'm wondering if one day i will belong in this world trying to figure out the person i become without warning

Trying to live this life one day at a time searching for that chance to belong somewhere

Always questioning the choices i made i made down the path of unknowing where i belong

Trying to fit in with this world that makes no sense in relative as i face the facts i will always be outcast no matter where i go

I'm just a outcast searching for the answer but it never seems to come its just a empty question that always lingers upon my thoughts

Wishing that somebody will notice me without a doubt A I try to search for the answer to this puzzle called life.

Stars

Stars are like diamonds they sparkle with so much beauty

Can stars be the eyes of angels watching over us

Nobody knows what lays beyond the path of the stars

Stars can be many things but yet it's a mystery to us

Stars have many shapes and many forms, some are bright some or dim it all depends

Stars shine so bright upon are night skies they are just so elegant

Have you ever wonder what stars really are

Everybody says they are just a ball of gas that linger upon are dark skies

Nobody really knows what the stars true forms is

Stars twinkle with much beauty that just take your breath away

Their are nights you could barely see them, but other nights they just light up the night sky which such beauty

Tears Of Unforgiving

You lie to me making me believe you changed but now i see you haven't

With every tear that falls sightly upon my cheeks my angry grow

As you try to put a blind fold over my blue eyes i see that your the same

With every chance I gave you turn around and made me believe the lie you seem to tell

Wishing you could feel these tears of unforgiving as you leave me with the pain you left behind because of your lies

My love grows faint because of all the hurtful pain you leave behind for me because of your lies you told

With all your broken promises you seem to tell i see now your not strong enough to keep them

With all those innocent kisses make me believe other wise

When you tell me one thing and you do another

My heart breaks with all those white lies you seem to tell

As i try my hardest to help you, I see now you can't be help unless you do it on your own.

That Moment In Time

Storms can be spectacle event that is the best moment in time

Sometimes storms can be the most devastated moment of someone life storms can be dangerous and scary but at the same time it could destroys something in a blink of an eye nobody knows when that moment suddenly stricks without knowing everything you once knew becomes dust without warning

Those scary moment as you slowly watch everything you once knew becomes a distance memory

As those endless nights of enjoying something so beautiful turns into a nightmare slowly watching the storms erase everything you once knew as your life

Take a trastic changed into a new begin.

Candymarie Nevin

These Feelings

Feeling so lost trying to figure my next move

Feeling like i'm in the wrong because of all these things

Feeling like everything I do is wrong feeling like i don't matter anymore

As my eyes feel with these endless tears called pain

As I try to move forward trying to get passed all mixed feelings that overwhelm me

Feeling so helpless feeling like my heart could explored any minute because of these feelings

As i loose my hopes and dreams trying to figure my path and where i belong

Trying to see between the silver line as i take the next step before i let go of everything i once knew

As i let go of my whole world as the dark eats me alive as the last tear rolls down my cheek as the dark consumes me.

Use To Know

Day after day you think you know someone and they turn out to be fake

You give all the love you have to give and the person you once knew becomes a distance memory

That wish to be forgotten that love you once felt becomes this empty shell

That once was filled with so much love and devotion slowly turns into pain and suffering

With out a doubt you think you know someone and it turns your life upside down without warning

Feeling confused over you because i thought i knew you now i see everything so clearly now wondering why me after i gave you the world.

What Is Addiction

Addiction is another format of obsession they think they need it but they really don't

It like a dirty habit you keep on feing for it when you really don't need it

Sometime addiction take over who you are making you want it more and more

What are addition if you really think about it nothing but dirty habit

People let there addiction take over who there are and change them into something there not

Addiction is like a outbreak that will never go away and it destorys all that in it path

Are addiction the fact of life that keeps people obessing over it and never stops

Addiction has many obilgation that begins attacking who you are addiction have many ways of controling people lifes and little by little it destory who they are

Life isn't a piece of cake everybody has many fixation to overcome

Some people can control there addiction but some people just can't contain there addiction it just destorys who there are

Addiction is like abuse it never stop it just keeps happening

Addiction makes people become careless to others and begins hurting the one close to them

Addiction could never be conquer unless they are willing to help there self.

What Is Ageing

You are born to a loving home and family with open arms

As you begin this new life as a baby everything seems so exciting and new

As you take your first step into reality as you become a child

Your heart is pure as gold searching for where you belong seeking your dreams finding your place where your heart desires

Not afraid of anything just wanting to find your path to who you are

As you become a teenager you start learning about new things

As you drift off into this world called teenage life everything seems to make you wonder who you are

You start learning about these feelings that you never understood until now

As you reach the stage of adulthood you start noticing new things that you never knew existed

As everything seems to make sense now that you lived the journey called life now just live it up and find yourself.

What Is Illusion

Nobody knows what is real and what is fake until its to late to save yourself

As time unwinds you never know what lays beyond that illusion you seem to created in your mind people seem to believe this world that they created without knowing

Your mind is giving you mixed signals making this delusion seems realistic

AS you slowly watched this vision you created transform into something unexpected

In reality it nothing but a figment of your imagination that seems foreal

As you take this journey into this world your mind created

Your body and soul becomes one with yourself

Now everything becomes clear to who you are.

Candymarie Nevin

What Is Imagination

When you fall asleep you enter this world called imagination

Have you ever wonder what lives beyond that path called imagination

It is a world your mind created unleashing your fantasy that become a dream

Sometimes your imagination plays tricks on you making your think your dreams are reality

A dream can appear in many formats sometimes it is your idealistic world you wish to live

As you fall fast asleep a whole another denomination that your mind created so you could escaped to

Imagination has so many faces sometimes you could never know if it real or just a dream

Imagination is the key to the world your heart desires.

Who You Are

As you watch your life flash before your eyes Unknowing who you are As years come and go you see your friends live there life.

Unknowing what path you should take and and if it is the right one nobody can see the future only learn from it

That question always seems to make you wonder who you are just point you the right way Your life ia only what make it out to be.

You And Me

Kiss me kiss me make my soul become pure as i show you my love and devotion like no another

As i stare into those innocent eyes turning into something more than we could ever image

As i give you the all the passion and love you deserve making ever minute last forever

No more pain no more misery holding me back just the warmth of you and me When i hold you close to my heart a feeling that I never knew existed until i laid eyes on you

With every kiss brings me that feeling of knowing that we belong together with every kiss you lay upon my lips ends with that special moment of you and me

As the love of you and me take over my heart as we kiss for the very last time.

You Were There

when i need a friend to talk to you always seem to find me

As you watched me grow up you always been a mother figure to

All those nights i lived in fear and guilt, You kept your heart open to me

All those hurtful memories that never left my side you watched me overcome them

All the nights i cried in my sleep you wiped my tears away and hrlf me close living my life with so many frighten moments you still were there as a friend when i closed everyone out you brought me back to without a doubt when i need a mother figure in my life you were there with open

All those kisses you pressed upon my forehead i learned to love as a mom when i was losted abd couldn't find my way you guided me to safety when i had nowhere to turn you lead me straight into your heart

All the memories we shared as you watched me grow into a young woman without your love and support i wouldn't be the woman i am today

You maybe just a friend to many people in my eyes you are a mother i never had

I'm glad that you were part of my life and i couldn't ask for anything
