" Don't love me because of my beauty but rather love me cuz of my mystery"

VelvetCrow~

A Letter To My Husband

You stole my heart
And you tear it apart
You broke my style
And replaced it to a new one

You manifest me
And you drag me down
You own me
But you left me behind

I changed for you
Follow and worshipped you
But look what you've done
You stabbed me like a million times

And now you're still thinking
That I will follow your command
Get over it my monster husband
Because I am no longer your die-hard fan

Chealsey Marou

Blade In My Hands

There are times I feel like I'm drowning
Soaking from my tears that is flowing in my cheeks
Being broken hearted is worse than having a cut in my wrist
Hurting myself will help me to lessen the pain
And give a consolation to my aching body
But I know that I'm already dying
Before the tetanus runs in my veins

Chealsey Marou

Charcoal

There was a girl who loves to paint

And so she painted the future of her fate

She doesn't have a paint color

So instead she used a charcoal

Her mother saw her lying inside her bedroom

Holding the painting of her own

Her hand is full of charcoal

And her body is melting in the floor

Chealsey Marou

Cold Chain

His touch is like a torn of a rose

His kisses is like a bite of a python

His hug feels me that I'm some kind of his possession

And a doll that cannot disobey his rules

As I'm already chained from head to toe...

Chealsey Marou

Cold Stone

The rain never stops just like my tears runs down

The fire never subsides just like my flaming heart

The cold never gone just like how I treat others

The wind cannot touch just like my presence died

Is this the life that I was yearning for? A nothing but a cold stone

Chealsey Marou

Constantly

The wind never dies
Just like the fire never stops
The anger starts with the fight
And the love knows what is right

The line has no end
Just like the scars that never fade
The memories stay
But the life will take away

Chealsey Marou

Curse

My father is a monster
And he lives in a forest
With his henchmen that are sentinel
To make sure that I'm subsequent

Yes, I am living in a city
And yet I'm a prisoner
It's been 16years that Im living like this
Being a slave and no freedom

I'll be patiently waiting till someone come
To undo the spell that's pinioned me
And be free with this curse
That impoverished me

Chealsey Marou

Dark Soul

Dreams are black

Memories flash back

Hatred consumes me

Like a savage one

Come to my spell

Be daze in my power

And be my companion

To ease my depression

Chealsey Marou

Deceiving

I met a man

A man on his own

There's a thousand of Riyals in his pocket

And yet he's unhappy and feels vulnerable

I asked him what is wrong?

And he replied to me

Clever girl, you might have no money

But your soul is pure and untouchable

I smirked at him and gave him a devilish look

No you are wrong because there's a black parasite inside my soul...

Fed-Up

I got tired from everything
Every scenery that happened repeatedly
Every note that is missing its piece
Every part of me that is slowly vanishing
I guess this is out to be
For only me can help myself to be complete

Chealsey Marou

Gossiper

Dogs are barking

Birds are chirping

Antelopes are snorting

Linnets are chuckling

Chinchillas are squeaking

Hippopotamuses are growling

My neighbors are chattering

What the hell are they talking

Chealsey Marou

Heart That Forever Bleeds

Can I treat you like the way I wanted
Can I touch you like no one else did
Can I say I miss you when im feeling blue
Can I say I love you even if you don't feel it too

Those words that keeps running in my head
That makes my heart aches
I wonder how will I ever get it through
This pain that is living inside me
Tearing me into pieces

I'd spent many days
Talking to myself
Wishing to get an answer
Is there any chance
When I finally say to myself
That I'm over with you
Or my heart will forever bleeds waiting for you...

Chealsey Marou

Her Ingenuity

She found herself sitting in a coffin

Writing a letter that she never told

Her soul is wondering

Looking for someplace

In where she belong

It is her way of showing her emotion

The deepest thoughts that are living inside her bones

Now its the time for her to reveal the mystery

Her secrecy that holds her dignity

Chealsey Marou

I Just Wanna Be

I wanna be alone
I wanna shut my door
I wanna cover my ears
So that I won't hear your voice

I wanna run until my feet get sore
I wanna hike in a tallest mountain
I wanna shout in the top of the cliff that I just wanna be free
Because you're being too numb to feel
That I'm no longer yours

Chealsey Marou

Illusion

I saw a woman standing in the corner
Wearing his torn and sluttish coat
She faced me and looked me in the eye
And I can't help but wonder
If we ever met before

She walks slowly using his cany
Confusion is written all over my face
When she's already in front of me
The facial features of her are same as mine
Is she my doppelganger?
Only she's older than me

Chealsey Marou

Irresistible

Say something
Don't just standing
Cuz I'm tired of this quarrel
Arguing with you is like a living hell

Don't lie to me, as if you can fool me
Because I saw with my very own eyes
That scarlet woman is sitting on your lap
Giving you a disgusting ride

Just say yes and were finally done
So you can do whatever you want
As I've about to turn around
He grabs me and pin me down

Damn I lose my guard down
Trying to escape from his strong arms
And then he whispers
Stay with me cuz you're my beloved one

Chealsey Marou

Memoirs

I will remember you
Will you remember me?
Your reflections will not disappear
As I close my eyes and fall in a deep sleep

Don't let your life pass you by
Don't afraid to lose
Once the darkness appears out of nowhere
Just hold on tight and wait for the light to come up

There's always some reason
That the memories must drift away
Sometimes it is the reason why you're still alive
Or it can be the biggest regret in your life

My Angel Marou

He came to me like an angel
An angel who bring happiness and hope
I feel the warmth of his touch
Whenever I'm doleful

As I recall the past before he came
My life is nothing but full of despair
But he erased it all the moment he was born
Yes he's my angel, my wings that I'm looking for

Being rejected from the start
By the people he never knew
Makes my heart wail for him
I will play my part
For him not to feel unloved
Because he is my life, my joy,
And my only possession
That it's worth fighting for...

Chealsey Marou

My Beloved

Moments of love
Blooms as a spring comes
Happily hearts
As their souls unites

Finding you is never easy
Just like searching in a dessert
For a drops of water
To fill my wizened maw

I've been waiting for this time
The moment when I finally call you mine
Where I can hold your hand
And be with you for a last time

Chealsey Marou

My Shirwil

With his tongue that gently licking my ear
Whispering how he loves to be on top of me
As his lips devours my lips
Like a thirsty man whose waiting to be kiss
His name is Shirwil
A one hell of a beauty that satisfies me

He brought a woman in me
So many times easily
Yes he's my lover, my companion
And my deepest possession
That no one can't take away from me

Chealsey Marou

Playing Jumpshot

I don't know what to write
I don't know where to start
My mind is empty
My brain is occupied

Tapping the side of my phone
As the music plays loud
I'm thinking if I can jump
From the window on my side

The person next to me sits aside
As if he was reading what's on my mind
Yes I'm smiling as I typed
Looks like crazy from the very start

Chealsey Marou

Rescue Me

Rescue me from the dark
Fill me with love that I never felt

Rescue me from the pirates
Who love to steal my golden chain

Rescue me from the insects
A parasites that suck my blood to death

Rescue me from the tiger
The one that bites me deeper

Rescue me from the witch
Who offered me a poisonous essence

Rescue me darling, please come and rescue me

Chealsey Marou

Ruthless And The Beast

The ruthless girl is walking down the aisle
Wearing her old white gown
She has the authority to make the man kneel down
With her own power that can tame a beast man

As she reached the altar, her groom starts to cry
Holding her hands like it was his very first time
The girl was fascinated by the man whose standing next to her
Because she was never imagined that the beast man will fall in love with her

Chealsey Marou

Shadow Of The Mystery

A tear of a crow is black and yellow
A fish in the ocean without scale and bone marrow
A stone in the dessert with full of callous
A rose in the garden without its torn

Her shoes has no ribbon
Like her violin without a tone
This is her song
A hymn with full of sorrow

Chealsey Marou

Soul

The voice are missing, the feelings are fading

The heart is beating but the inside is dying

The guilt is sinking and the fear is lifting

The book is empty, the pages are gone

The promises are broken, the words are forgotten

Soon she'll leave and her memories will burn

Chealsey Marou

Stray

Water is flowing
Mouth is watering
The girl is wandering
As she entered the gathering

The kids are dancing
With the sticks their holding
Watching them is a funny thing
As they fell down from the string

Chealsey Marou

Thankfully

Can't stop smiling
Cant stop believing
That the man of my dreams
Is right In front of me

He is my knight in shining armor
Who catch me when I fall
The one who stay with me
Even in my darkest momentum

Chealsey Marou

The Monster Inside Me

This is a part of me
A secrecy that holds my dignity
I wanna tell the world
How I ended up like this

This memory that keeps bragging me
The scenery that I don't wanna see
I called it selective memory
Where I hid all the tragedy that was happened to me

Someone called me a princess of the witch
Yes I'm bewitching and I used to cussing
Many times I tried to flee
From the monster that is hidden inside me

It is quite amusing
And tormenting
That I was able to survive
In this world that is full of wild creatures

Chealsey Marou

The Promise

My life is like a blizzard
That freezes my heart like cold hard
Anyone tries to face me, avoids my coldness
Like a tree in the snow that freezes

In a forest of pitch black loneliness
I found you sitting with full of sadness
My heart stops for a second
Tries to escape from your irresistible presence

I tried to find a way to cure your loneliness
The only way I could think off is to sacrifice myself
And so I cured your pain and in exchange for it
I experienced love that I'd never felt

The memories of you will never fade
Hold tightly the diary that you left
Wait for me my beloved
I'll come to you and we will never be separated

Chealsey Marou

This Feeling

Here I go again
Having this feeling that is killeth me
An impression that lost in me
Will it last like eternity?
Or it's just a fantasy

How I wish I can hold your hands forever
Even there's no forever just like the other says
If this feeling will make me live again
Then I will choose to die in your arms
Just to feel that I'm alive again

Chealsey Marou

Trap

Mouth wide open
As he passed through
Asking for permission
Be my lover, cuz I'm feeling blue

He walks like a model
The way he sways his buttocks
Watching him from a distance
While thinking my next move

My face turned white
When he entered the girl's room
Damn he's a womanish man
And I'm such a fool

Chealsey Marou

Unwanted Existence

I am alone

Sitting in a dark wrecked room

Where no one can see me

As a living creatures that is full of woe

It breaks my heart into pieces

As I strives to live on my own

Trying to protect myself

From the cruelty of the world

Should I allow to break the wall, my only protection

Or blame myself for this existence

That I never wanted...

Chealsey Marou

Vagabond

My hands are freezing
As the winter comes
Wearing a piece of clothes
To cover my weakened figure

Christmas is coming
Neighbors are decorating
Filling their tables
With lots of berries

I'm searching in a bin, if there's any excess food
To fill my stomach and hydrated maw
This is my tedious life
The dying creature that is fighting for her life

Chealsey Marou

Velvetcrow

Another moment of dullness

The loneliness that binds me

A cold heart that starts to stark

Just like a hand that lost its warmth

She's letting herself to try

A decision that keeps tormenting her mind

All the lies that she doesn't understand

In time she will be fine

And discover herself as a new one

Chealsey Marou

Wake Me Not

I saw myself lying in a coffin
Where no one can disturb me
As vulnerable human being

Covering my ears
With my filthy hands
To ease the noises
That disturbing my senses

Moments after, the door of my house opened
And I saw a gorgeous man I've ever seen
Giving me a charming smile
That took my breath away

Suddenly I heard a loud scream
Then I woke up from the dream
In an unknown place
That is full of pirates

I opened my eyes and saw my classmates
Chattering a nonsense topic
And my seat mates whispered
You're having a daydream again

Chealsey Marou

Wild Rose

Her erotic dance will make you mad
Her sexy body will make you mesmerize
As her body sways to the rhythm of the music
Every man can't help but to admire her

As she turned around
Her hair is dancing
With the strip clothes she's wearing
Giving her a seductive appeal

She drinks up the whiskey that she's holding
Like the music that has no ending
The man asked her to dance with him
But she refused cuz she's waiting for something exquisite

The girl saw a dashing creature
As he steps in front of the dance floor
The wine waiter shocks to his horror
When the wild rose pulls him closer

Time stops
When their lips collide
The wild rose murmurs, what's gotten in her mind
And then she fell in the arms of the venemous man

Chealsey Marou

Womans Agony

He sits beside me
Tucking my hair at the back of my ear
And then he whispers all the words that I wanted to hear
As I've about to face him
The wind blew and then he disappeared
He left me again
As I've said between my tears
Then I realized it was all a dream
A dream that haunts me for a thousand year...
