1966 (A Monologue)

Everyone will have a year they never forget and for a number of reasons mine is 1966.

I was 18 and King of the Hill in 66, knew it all, but knew nothing at all.

Things that happened to me and around me, World events, People and the Music, all effected me at the time and influenced my life, some of it stays with me even today.

To set the scene in January 1966 Harold Wilson is Prime Minister, Lyndon B. Johnson is President, the Vietnam War is raging. Carnaby Street in London is the place to be seen and to get the latest World leading Fashions. Mary Quant is Queen, Twiggy Models and George Harrison gets Married.

The Music had been amazing throughout the Sixties but 66 was a good year. The hit makers in 66 were. The Beatles, The Rolling Stones, The Kinks. The Beach Boys, The Supremes, The Temptations, Jimmy Ruffin, The Four Tops, Dusty Springfield, Mamas & The Papas, Frank Sinatra, Wilson Pickett, Hermans Hermits, Dionne Warwick, The Mindbenders, Bob Dylan, Donovan, The Monkees, Percy Sledge, The Hollies, The Lovin' Spoonful, Simon and Garfunkel, Stevie Wonder, The Byrds, James Brown, Otis Redding, Jimi Hendrix, The Isley Brothers, The Who, Ike and Tina Turner, Spencer Davis Group, Junior Walker & The All-Stars, The Small Faces, The Troggs, Manfred Mann, Nancy Sinatra, The Walker Brothers, Jackie Wilson, Cher, The Chiffons, The Animals, Ray Charles, Neil Diamond, The Four Seasons, The Righteous Brothers, Sgt. Barry Sadler, Lee Dorsey, Mitch Ryder, The Rascals and our very own New Vaudeville Band, to name just a few. Wow just reading that list back blows my mind again and there were so many more wonderful Artists around on the Motown and Country & Western labels alone.

I played in a Group of course, it seemed like everyone did at that time, we were called "The Jailbirds" and no we had not "done time" it just seemed like a well hard name. I was lead singer and my friends Ron, Al and Frank made up the rest of the Group. We did a lot of Chuck Berry, Wilson Pickett, Rhythm and Blues sort of stuff with some of our own Master Pieces thrown in like "Daves Date" or "Fuse Blues" about the night one of our Amplifiers blew up on stage. We wore Leather Bomber Jackets, Jeans and T Shirts, a sort of James Dean meets Elvis look. We were never going to hit the big time but we had a lot of fun and played some great Venues. We played at some of the places we used to go as 16 year olds to Dance and watch Groups so it was quite a thrill to go back to some of them as the main attraction. Most of the time our Van was broken down so we used to hire a Mini Bus. Many a night the Mini Bus was out on other jobs and the Bus Company would send a 52 seat Coach for just the 4 of us and a few random girls. I think people expected Glen Millers Band to be getting out not just four scruffs and some very beaten up gear.

Our claims to fame are very limited, we did get on a Newspaper cutting with Tom Jones and the Kinks at one Club. Not playing on the same night, we did the mid week low lifes nights but it was still a thrill. We played with a Band called Jed & The Mysteries who had just Toured with the Rolling Stones and we played the famous Elizabethan Ballroom at Manchester's Belle Vue where Jimmy Saville was DJ. It was all good fun, we even got paid sometimes. I still have the Press cutting and all our Songs with the running order and even some Groupie type Fan Mail.

In April 1966 I slept with a girl for the first time. It was a fumbling and clumsy sexual encounter with a girl called Maureen (18) from work. Neither of us had made any pretence of being in love, I guess we were both experimenting with Sex at that age. We were both virgins and didn't have a clue so it was all a bit comical really. I was a promising young Footballer and had broken my Leg badly in a game a few weeks before this encounter so my left leg was in Plaster. During the course of the evening with passions running high I somehow managed to break the plaster. I spent most of the next day at the Hospital getting my Leg reset and trying not to explain exactly how I had broken the plaster. Although the encounter was a disaster I do remember the thrill of holding a naked woman next to me for the first time, I think I nearly fainted. We never went out again after that night, I can't think why.

Sport and Football in particular was my life at the time and I was grounded with the Broken Leg and a number of follow up operations for over 5 months. I found that really difficult to cope with at times particularly as I also suspecting that my Footballing ambitions would have to change. However I did meet my first real love during this time Sandra Cullen (18.) We had an on off relationship for 3 years which was unconsummated, much to my regret. I learned a lot about the bigoted attitudes some people had and I guess still have about Religion. She was Catholic and I was nothing in particular but had been brought up Church of England. Her parents and the local Priest put enormous pressure on her to give me up as I was not Catholic. Some years after we had eventually split, Sandra Married a fellow Catholic. I learned much later that their Marriage had ended in Divorce a couple of years before my first Marriage ended the same way. It will always be a great mystery of life if we could have been happy and made a Marriage work.

Amidst all this angst I wrote my first Poem for Sandra called "My Love" sadly it has been lost to the world but the first line went.

"My love, my love, when you are near the pounding of my heart I hear."

I have no idea where it came from as I was Mr Testosterone at the time and not prone to such outpourings but the few people who read it liked it and I was quite proud of it. This did give me encouragement to do more but it took me nearly 30 years to actually do that. I think the Testosterone got in the way again but that is another story.

Some really bad stuff happened in 66. In America Race riots broke out in New York, Chicago and Cleveland and a lot of people were still getting killed and maimed in Vietnam. In Britain a Coal Tip collapsed in Aberfan, South Wales killing 116 Children and 28 Adults. The Television pictures of all these events were harrowing and at times heartbreaking.

Also making the News was Chairman Mao who proclaimed a Cultural Revolution in China and launched his best selling Little Red Book. In the December of 66 Walt Disney sadly died but what a great legacy he left behind.

For English Football on the other hand it was a very good year.

On the 30th July 1966 England won the World Cup beating West Germany 4-2 after extra time in the Final at Wembley Stadium London in front of a packed house and a very proud Queen. The whole Nation came to a halt for the day with everyone sat in front of a Television Screen. I was on Holiday and watched the game on Television in Norway with some Norwegian friends (who were all supporting West Germany.) I will never forget that game or that day, it was a momentous occasion for all of England and the celebrations went on for months. The Team (set out below) instantly went into Football folklore and gained folk hero status. They are all still household names today and most of them have been awarded Honours by the Queen.

Flying (to Norway) was another first, quite a big deal in 66, on a Plane with Propellers non of your fancy Jets. It was also my first Foreign Holiday. Though still in Plaster I had a wonderful time in Oslo and in the Countryside on the Fiords. It is a beautiful Country and I would like to go back there one day.

1966 was a good and very memorable year for me on the whole. It was all heady stuff for an 18 year old but in the main it was a great time to be young and English. It was a long time ago but it all made a deep impression on me at the time. It did effect my life and started to form the person I am today. I have no regrets. I would like to meet Sandra again, just to talk and find out about her life and maybe to put the record straight a little. I should have kept in touch with my fellow "Jailbirds" Ron, Al, and Frank. Maybe I will look them up and we can do a Reprise Tour of all the Nursing Homes, which is probably where most of our fans are now.

A Kiss

What is in a kiss,
Body and soul, heart and mind,
When lovers lips meet.
Without that kiss emptiness,
Is all we can feel inside.

Addicted

I am not in love,
But I am drawn to you,
Like a Moth to a candle flame.

I am not in love,
But I am craving for,
The taste of your lips on mine.

I am not in love,
But I am wanting you,
In my arms, bodies entwined.

I am not in love,
I am wanting to give,
Loving, care and tenderness.

I am not in love,
Or just wanting sex,
I am simply addicted to you.

American Remembrance (An Epitaph)

U.S. Troops Killed in Iraq. March 2003 to May 2007

You did your duty,
And paid the ultimate price.
Never forgotten,
Missed so much by your loved ones.
In Gods tender care today.

Bewitched

We were loves young dream such a long time ago,
A pretty young girl and her handsome beau.
Just out of our teens and our lives all before us,
Not a care in the world and so deeply in love.

Neither one knowing what paths would we take,
Neither one knowing the mistakes we would make.
Then it all fell apart and we went separate ways,
We made our mistakes, paid the price that you pay.

But that pretty young girl never quite left my mind,
She was deep in my soul and would come to my dreams.
Then 30 years on and we met once again,
We talked as before, like we'd never been gone.

Yes your face has changed, we are both older now,
But the girl I once loved had not changed at all.
The woman before me, was that pretty young girl,
With the twinkling eyes and gentle smile.

We hugged like old friends, and kissed cheek to cheek,
The years all rolled back, I could hardly speak.
I wanted to put my head on your shoulder,
Lose the pain that sometimes still smoulders.

I wanted so much to take you and hold you,
To kiss and caress you and gently enfold you.
As we said our goodbyes we both glanced around,
Our eyes met again like they had years before.

Whatever it was that once captured my heart,
Was woken again by just one stolen glance.
That pretty young girl who once cast her spell,
Bewitched me again full 30 years on.

Britannia

Britannia smiles o'er Lakes and Hills
Such beauty never seen
It takes your breath
It makes you proud
Of Green and Pleasant Lands

To know her is to love her
And arouse thy generous flame
With matchless beauty crowned
And manly hearts a pound.
Britannia is my lady my inspiration to.

Coming Home (Brize Norton)

The name Brize Norton just fills me with dread.

When I see it on TV or hear on the News,
Of another Plane landing with bodies on board.
Young lives full of promise a few days ago,
Coming back home in body bags, dead.
The name Brize Norton just fills me with dread.

Union Jack draped Coffins carried by friends,
Heart broken loved ones who feel it's the end.
The Flower of our youth come back from afar,
Another Poppy Petal at remembrance next year.
How many this time, are coming home dead.

The name Brize Norton just fills me with dread.

Crying Out

I should be happy and I'm not,
And I really don't know why.
I should be happy and I'm not,
I really could sit down and cry.

I could cry for the world,
For the hunger and pain.
I could cry for the wars,
For the bombs and the hate.

I could cry for religion,
The fanatic, the pious.
I could cry for Politics,
And career Politicians.

I could cry for Newspapers,
Got the Press we deserve.
I could cry for the people
Not caring at all.

I should be happy and I'm not,
And I think I do know why.
In this selfish world we live in,
I feel helpless and torn from within.

Divorce

Decree Nisi, hearts gone cold,
Irreparable damage done.
Valediction of the relationship,
Obituary of our love.
Resentment burned and overflowed,
Cancerous in its spread.
Elegy to a love that died.

David Barlow

Elegy To My Hero

Regimental Sergeant Major James Corrigan MC,
A regular Soldier in World War One,
Was Mortally wounded whilst saving another.
He got an appointment to see the King,
And the Military Cross for his Bravery.
My Grandpa died of his wounds.

This upright Man who I never knew,
Was my Hero as I grew up.
I heard the tales, handed down,
Of deeds of daring do
And saw his imposing figure,
In pictures all faded and torn.

I've read of the Somme and Passchendaele too
And its hard to think of him there.
Its beyond imagination to know,
The carnage and hardship he saw.
A Family man with four young Children,
And the Grandpa I never knew.

Goodbye

Your eyes said kiss me,
My heart said kiss her,
But we said goodbye,
And just walked away.

Illicit Love

Judged and found guilty and sentence pronounced.
Life for the love I couldn't denounce.
Pure gentle and true, though tinged with blue.
Is that such a crime, my love for you.

The ring of your laughter's a beautiful sound.
Its you that makes my whole world go around.
We both saw the writing upon the wall.
But when it all started we'd not planned to fall.

The times we had could not have been better.
So who would believe it could end with a letter.
When we parted I lived in a cloud.
So dark and dank it felt like a shroud.

Lost and alone and empty inside.
Swept along on a cold grey rip tide.
I can't live with you or give you my name.
But I can't live without you I can't stand the pain.

Then when you rang the sun shone anew.
Lifting the clouds as I talked to you.
Tears of joy and relief ran down my face.
It's nice to be back in the human race.

Now one things for sure, this love is for real.
And time will not heal the feelings we feel.
Illicit love is painful indeed.
But better by far than unfulfilled need.

There is no escaping this prison we're in.
We'll be there forever to pay for our sin.
So lock the cell door on our world sweet and warm.
And cuddled together we'll weather the storm.

David Barlow

Live, Love, Laugh.

Live, Love, Laugh there may be no tomorrow.
This thing I read and made me think,
Of just how short our life is.

Of all the hopes and dreams we have,
That pass us by or others steal,
Cos times not right for them.

We live just once; time is short
And every day is precious.
Let no one steal your dreams.

Live, Love, Laugh as if there's no tomorrow.
Make your dreams reality now,
You get no second chance.

David Barlow

Making Love

First there's the build up the tension inside.
The feelings and longings you just can not hide.
Weeks of waiting and wanting with cold lonely nights.
For the warmth and the closeness that we feel tonight.

An emotional whirlpool stirs from within.
The count down of life is about to begin.
Out of earth's atmosphere deep into space.
No gravity pull as we float and embrace.

The Planets pass by now we're in full flight.
This love of ours keeps finding new heights.
All of a sudden we're out of control.
Our Space ship stalls and goes into a roll.

Falling from heaven past planets and stars.
Falling past Venus, Pluto and Mars.
On the edge of oblivion holding you tight.
Everywhere blackness with sharp flecks of light.

Crashing through space with nothing above.
We want to scream out and tell of our love.
Then stillness descends and we drift on warm seas.
So tranquil and calm, just you and me.

Entwined together in afterglow.
The seeds are sown and the world turns slow.
This total ecstasy I've never known.
Is shared with you and you alone.

An expression of love from so deep in my heart.
If life could be different we'd never part.
Then back down to earth and reality reigns.
But I'll count down the days till I see you again

Pretty Woman

I don't know your name but they call you Fawn,
How that just fits your delicate form.
I saw in your eyes the first time we met,
That you were quite special and not like the rest.

You have physical beauty of that there's no doubt,
But the beauty within is what makes you stand out.
It shines from your eyes, your smile and your lips,
Your gentle voice and your fingertips.

Your sensuous touch, your grace and your beauty,
Is so well matched to the music of Satie.
You take me to heaven with your tenderness,
Bring tears to my eyes just touching my flesh.

Thank you dear Fawn you make me feel special,
Thank you for Satie and thank you for you.
I'm so glad I've known you; you've made my life richer,
And I'll never forget you sweet memories to picture.

I know one day soon that you will be gone,
And hey yes I know life will go on.
But I'll miss you much more than you'll ever know,
So kiss me once more before you go.

If I could give one gift as you leave,
All your hopes and dreams you'd receive.
Have a good life whatever you do,
Be happy my sweet, I'll be thinking of you.

Spring (Haiku)

Don't cry, don't cry please,
Suns shining flowers blooming,
Life's worth living now.

Summer Breeze (Haiku)

The warm Summer breeze,
Caressing leaves on the Trees.
Warms my heart today.

The Dream

You came to me again last night,
And in my dreams I held you so tight.
I smell your sweet perfume and touch your warm skin, □
Your face so clear, your lips so near.

So many years since we last parted,
Lost our dreams and got broken hearted.
God only knows after all of this time,
How it can be that you come back to me.

I walk down the Town and scan all the faces,
I think I see you and my heart just races.
So many things I'm wanting to tell you,
So many things I'm wanting to know.

Has life been kind are you happy now,
It means such a lot, I really must know.
Things that I said that I want to put straight,
Tell you the reasons and just how I felt.

Things that you said, how much did you mean,
Was it reality or all just a dream.
How can it mean so much to me now,
I really don't know, it's a life time ago.

But there is still a place, down deep in my soul,
A lonely place with your name writ on.
Maybe it's that, or the part of my heart,
That was kept for you when we had to part.

God only knows after all of this time,
Just how it can be, you still come back to me.

The Stranger

Your Suicide Note really tore at my heart,
When I saw your picture and read what you said.
It effected me deeply and I could not sleep,
For thinking of you, not wanting you dead.

There is obviously sadness effecting your life,
From the hurt you describe, in the words that you write.
The loss of a loved one, a mother's neglect,
I don't know the detail but the hurts really deep.

Fresh faced, mischievous, pretty and cute,
Vivacious and so full of life.
Smiling eyes and luscious red lips,
A Poet, a Cook, a Cat person to.

When I look at your picture I really want,
To take your hands and caress them in mine.
To tenderly kiss your lips and your neck,
To hold you and hug you and make it all right.

Your hurting effects me I don't know why,
A total stranger who I never met.
Who you loved and lost, I really don't know,
But you have love to give, that I can tell.

You must be loved by lots of folk,
But that special love seems missing just now.
Your sexy and sensuous, that shows when you write,
Your my Teacher, a Girl, a Lady, a Woman.

You want respect as a Woman and as a Writer to,
Well you have that from me and many others for sure.
Love and companionship is something you need,
And you are sure to find that again soon.

I have completed my task without any Rhyme,
Hope the Teachers not shocked or displeased.
At confessions I've made or how she's perceived,
I would hate to cause more hurt or pain.

Tribute To Trees

From tiny saplings to giant trees,
They stand all day and gently sway.
They take our harmful co<sub>2</sub>,
They give us the air that we breath.

Some quietly stood for hundreds of years,
Have watched all our history go by.
What tales they'd tell of our yesteryears,
If they could talk, tell all they saw.

Heart of Oak were our mighty Ships,
Ruling the waves, enabling an Empire.
Cricket Bats made from the graceful Willow,
Gave us our National game.

But the greatest gift that they endow is that of year long beauty,
Marking the changing seasons in natures own special way.

In Winter, reaching to the skies, like skeletons they stand,
Stark silhouettes with branches bare though all the rain and snow.

In Spring they raise our spirits when buds swell forth and burst,
With fresh green leaves of every hue that signal life anew.

In Summer and full leaf they stand, so very proud and tall,
Leaving us in wonder at our green and pleasant land.

In Autumn the cycle is complete, with just one final treat.
A riot of colour, leaves hang like jewels, dancing in the breeze,
Ruby red through to rusty brown, ochre, yellows and limes.
Leaves shimmer like fire on a sunny day then float down to the ground.
A magic carpet of Autumn tones is settled all around,
Lay like a mosaic, in a pallet so rich and warm.

This is the life cycle of our Trees,
Another ring on the trunk marks the year gone by.
Dormant now, resting, ready for Spring,
When the cycle begins all over again.

Welcome Home Soldier

Brave Soldier wounded in Iraq,
Lost his Mate in the same attack.
Sent back home to the NHS;
Military Hospitals all closed now.

Welcome home, go to A&E,
Be patient Dear just join the queue.
Go over there to the waiting room,
Wait with the Drunks and the Addicts to.

No Uniform please in case it offends?
Welcome home my Soldier friend.

Lost a limb an Arm or a Leg,
Got badly Burned or Shot in the Head.
You'll get your Op be patient Dear,
Your back home now, so wait your turn.

Anyone check you for PTS,
Or Council about your friend's sudden death.
Not British old boy, don't be so silly,
Stiff upper lip, pull your self together.

Torn apart from your Comrades, ones you relied on,
The only ones who could understand.
Those who shared all the Trauma and Hardships,
The Dangers the Blood and the Fear.

Invalided out of the Army and back home now,
How lonely you feel with no one to share.
With no one to listen and no one to care,
About all of the things you saw while out there.

Got an appointment to see the Queen,
At Buckingham Palace no less.
In London today and feeling so proud,
Collecting his Medal for Bravery.

With Oxford Street close at hand,

He decides to visit the Shops.
Gets told to leave at one Famous Store,
"In case Uniform offends."

For Queen and Country and a grateful Nation,
The Recruitment Sergeant said.
It's nice to be back home again,
Where the Uniform offends.

Just home from War,
Broken, bruised, battered and scarred by horrors he has seen,
Now he's back home and the Uniform offends? ? ? ?
Now that's offensive to me.

Don't agree with the War, that's a point of view,
If you're in the Armed Forces you go were you're told.
Those who have Served deserve better than this,
Respect and care at the very least.

Welcome home Soldier from a Grateful Nation.

When I'M Sixty Four

I got to thinking the other day.
About you and me and senile decay.
Will I still be red hot when I'm sixty four.
Will you still turn me on as you did years before.

When we find a hotel and go to book in.
Will we ever remember what names to fill in.
When I arrive a bit late will you still hear my knock.
Or will you be stone deaf and keep the door locked.

Will we both still fit in the bath late at night.
Will we look in the mirror and not get a fright.
Will we still walk for miles come rain or come shine.
Have days full of smiles and drink lots of wine.

Will we go to the disco or will you say hell no.
Will we cuddle and dance slow or do the ago-go.
Will you still be my lady in red.
Will you still turn every head.

When I think of these things in the future I know.
I get a bit sad and a little bit low.
Still there's one consolation I'd like to relate.
I know you won't like it, you might get irate.

You'll be older than me, when I'm sixty four.
And drawing your pension to meet me once more.
But don't worry darling, I know you'll still be.
Pretty as ever and the whole world to me.

You Got Mail

Re, Re. Re, Re, Re, cant wait for the mail every day.
Re, Re. Re, Re, Re, like a child on Christmas Eve.
Re, Re. Re, Re, eyes bright with delight I have one.
Re, Re. Re, Re, hungrily devour every word.

Re- leif .....Its from you.
Re- flect .....Upon your words.
Re- inforced .....By your spirit.
Re- juvinated ....By what you write.
Re- plied .....With love and affection.

Re, Re. Re, Re, Re, now the cycle starts over again.

You Got No Mail

Go to favourites and click onto Hotmail
Excitedly type in the password and wait
Inbox says empty my spirits sink low
Wanting you near me, waiting to hear
To read and devour you're every word
To feel your closeness and spirit transcend
To lift me and sooth me as only you can.
