The Dilwara Jain Temples

If I ask you
Which is the most beautiful architecture
Made of white marble in the world?

Your answer may be different from my opinion
You will say something else
But I say none other, only and only
The Dilwara Jain Temples!

We have to praise the mind of The Ruler Vimal Shah of Chalukya Dynasty
In eleventh century
When thinking like this was too difficult Then he proved it to be true
It's a challenge even for today's artisans Such beautiful artwork
Point that, by followers of the Jainism faith
The complex consists of five temples Built at different times in history Between eleventh and thirteenth centuries.

Temples are located in Mount Abu Rajasthan's only hill station
When I think, in that era
How would have such big blocks of marble Been transported at a height
Of twelve hundred meters
I feel compelled to say
This work is divine, wonderful & incredible!

If you want to see the grace and elegance of art
If you want to feel high level spirituality
If you want to linger in divinity
Then you must go there once!

Nevertheless

For you
it's difficult-
to spend time with me,
For me
it's difficult-
to forget you!

In an attempt to make you forget, disquietness has increased to an extent!

Wish I could forget you, wish there was a medicine for this too!

Coming close and getting away suddenly is very depressing for me dear, Wish you could understand my pangs...,
Nevertheless
you always be happy!

Buoyant Smile

Now you are not you while I am still I your promises were false but my love was true.

Difficult to believe that you have left me your preterition has broken me but the undying longing to live still remains.

Nicely you should understand it-there is much more beyond you; Want to sit in the lap of nature for a while,
so that on face again
I can bring a buoyant smile.

With White Chiffon Dupatta

The brightness of her eyes adds to the beauty of the world,

The redness of her lips makes twilight romantic,

The aura of her cheeks
thrills the mind,

The sound of her earrings makes the whole environment resonate,

The magical smile on her face adds more fragrance to the flowers,

When she walks in ocean green dress
with white chiffon dupatta,
It is very difficult for me to say that The beauty of the world is contained in her beauty Or her beauty is contained in the beauty of the world.

She Whispered

When I said to her-
"Look into my eyes and say that you don't love me."
She replied truly-
"You're very right my dear but I'm compelled in front of this illusory world, Forget me."

I saw into her eyes and said-
"World may be an illusion,
But my love is an actuality...
The world is in motion,
But my love is stable...
Feel me
And come out Of fear of the world."

I saw-
She had
Very bright glow in her eyes
Was looking me at gaze Came very close
And got into my arms...
She whispered-
"It was Only my confusion, World is not an illusion."

I Am Man

I am illusion
She is truth
I am deception
She is reality
I am evanescent
She is eternal
I am nothing
She is everything

I am man
She is nature! !
