I am a university professor, I have written 12 books and many articles on poetry and mysticism of energy I have my hands so I believe that God is within us love people

Drcobra Rahbar

When I wake up in the morning I lie all the doors are closed to me it's time to break the lock on me to sleep because I do not see how long one actually came to tell us we find the way told us that the commissioning to the road but it is also true loves are betrayed
