Her Destiny

she looks outside
the only thing she see
its just clouds
she thinking of her past the day of her school
good day, bad day
she loves all of them
shes not sure
but its no way out
its her decision
she have to go
but why far?
she miss her house and all the memories but now shes 18 & she must go to her destiny and now shes thinking of her future and have god smile on her face

If You Remember Me!

i'm still waiting for you
you never come
i can feel this.
you dont know that i like you
baby know
somebody everywhere she go thinking of you
it doesnt waste your time darling to think of me for one second IF you remember me like i do!

Red sky in faraway of harbor Rain dropp on leaves
ocean cries

Best days are arrive

Sunshine

the sunshine shines
in the sky
in through the windows
down to the ground
it lights up the sky
it lights up the candles
it lights up my eyes
it lights up my heart
