

Poetry Series

Jan Jack
- poems -

Publication Date:

2007

Publisher:

Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Jan Jack()

I write and perform some of my verse on the comedy stand up circuit and will shortly be publishing a book of humorous verse.

Naughty Poetry-A Visit To The Zoo By Jan Jack

It was June when this incident happened in August, two thousand and two I'd called round for Maude, we'd been listless and bored so decided to visit the zoo

We'd gazed in rapt awe at the zebras then peered at the gorilla next door he was subtly prancing, and slowly advancing on his mate who was sat on the floor

But his mate wasn't feeling too frisky so he bellowed in frustrated rage then we saw with alarm that his muscular arm had pulled back all the bars of his cage

Our eyes were transfixed on his body he was massive, it has to be said It was then that we found, he was on the rebound and was heading for Maudie instead

Her feet fairly flew from that pavement as he pressed her against the brick wall he ravished her body, his actions were shoddy there was no hint of foreplay at all

The ambulance men came a-running the gorilla showed little regret But he did show some style, he sat still for a while then he lit up a small cigarette

I finally went to see Maudie she was distraught and still lying in bed looking fairly bemused and incredibly bruised with a bandage wrapped right round her head

I asked, "Maudie, so how are you feeling" she just uttered a low anguished moan She said "Say what you will, how d'you think that I feel?
Two weeks later he still hasn't phoned.....

Jan Jack