A First For One Last Chance

At first glance I knew I loved you. At second chance I took the chance to say I love you and by chance you looked into my eyes and whispered you adored me, you swore to be mine, and never lion to me let our a roar that was passionate in every one way to my heart and with my last breath I said to you that 'my only love to be in my heart is yours....my first choice.'

A Little Rock

It is a little stone throw away from the puddle that life skips over.

It is the large red stone that breaths deep inside your treasure chest that brings a smile to the world around you, and this is why life can and will always....Rock.

A New Year Forever

I took the stones that held strong the structure that housed my heart in this new year.

I take what I give and I gave what I made to build the love that my heart played with every string I strum to make the perfect music that is this New year.

I took hold of my life so you may laugh with me forever and this is what I know to be my 'New year with you for eternity'.

A New Year To Celebrate A New World.

At 0-60 you drive me into a frenzy and I'm so honored to be within the limits of your friendship.

We race for we love at neck break speeds, Our tires smoke colors so bright that I'm unhooking the seat belt so I can hold you tighter than my bones can handle. My love is so fragile so breakable that I'm understandably inside out with emotions, You are the stone with the sword of passion wedges deep and I will forever in the stop motion of time will always Celebrate every year my greatest accomplishment.....You, nothing new by my entire world.

A Poem From 0 To 60 In 2. Love

My heart races when I hear your heart connect to mine. My eyes begin to water when I see you enter my heart.

My mind is made up and I know that from 0 to 60 I will always run faster than a speeding bullet to love you forever and ever after.

A Word Written For A Smile

When you speak the word 'lovely' your lips end up in a grin and when you wink an eyelash wave with the setting sun behind your heart, it is your glow that shows love and When you smile, there is no words to describe how wonderful my feelings are on paper...and on you.

A World Wide Poem

If I could tie a poem around the world I would.

Just like the Ravens flying south it is my words I write that could circle the Earth twice if it meant one smile per mile.

I have the whole world in my heart and I hurt if I never love again please bring my language of eternal love for you....my bird of pray my hands folded together to be whole with my love bird.

Butterfly Effects

The most beautiful of all wings are the ones you lift me up with.

The most powerful of all passions are the glows and the love rays that your smile lifts me up with.

Nothing is more up lifting then your eye lashes brushing up against my heart to cause the ripple of a beautiful you...

My butterfly effect.

evo-luv-tion of ?—???

I see through the looking glass that I have perfect vision and I know what I feel, and I know what I see, and what I see is you who is a beautiful girl with a beautiful smile but there is no words in the glasses of evo-luv-tion that can write history that you are so ?—??? that even when I breath passion, it's my eyes I only see a heart in you. —

Going Up While Still Down

'Take' is what you give when the wind blows over my shoulders and through my are the sugar in sour grapes and this is why I dream of your smile every blue sunset. I awake upon the rising sun just to give you that soft kiss that takes me from down to going up to where true happiness blindly lives.

Jason Humber

I Write Because I Know You Smile.

I found the perfect smile when I wasn't searching and I grew stronger when I deeply felt that you became the most powerful heart I have ever touched. I write because I know I am not always right but I took you by the hand and when I embraced your static electricity I finally learned that I use I way to much even though in my chest lives you the reason why words from the heart are written to make you smile.

It Is A Great Life When....

You know that your love is great when you can be your self and be happy.
You knew when you held your own hand that love wasn't going to be easy.
You never knew that greatness was in the eye of the beloved but my knowledge took me to the ends of the Earth only to bring me back here to the greatest of great lives....being in your heart.

It's Time To Love

I dream a little dream of my love for the little things in heart and in soul. When I'm wide awake I feel every colour of the rainbow that the treasure of pure happiness is hidden within the walls of a walking sweetness. Only then you will look at the hands of a count down to zero plus one with the square root of eleven to equal everyday to watch love tick bye.

Jason Humber

Now You See Them Now You.....

Never do I not want to be by myself when my sunshine has faded.
My ever after is my mind clever with thoughts of loving you.
In my life the heart burns at both ends of the colour spectrum and catching flames while holding on tightly is what brings me to tears of joy and friendship of memories.
I will never forget when I found you, and I will forever see you now and for eternity.

Once Upon A Star

Once up-on a tree top so sweet, was a hand that held my heart so tight that it was twice down-inside my mind that loved so right, I knew for the rest of my life you were never a Once upon a star but my infinity solar flare.

One, Two, Three It Is Thee That I Love

Awake you are still my dream, a sleep I wait to awake so I may see you as my angel of hope looking down on me.

When I'm feeling low you are my beautiful Dragon of huff that I gather yarn and sealing wax so I may glue together everything about you so I may be forever in your fire breathing passion and fly away into the sunset of One) lust, Two) to be with you and three) that you are my white peace dove that I will always see as my true love.

Only A Heart Can Read

There is Nothing more pure than your lips speaking white words of wisdom.
Wild things aren't just furry creatures playing tiptoe through your heart.
It is wild in here when you are my jungle and I am your Tarzan swinging into your monkey see monkey do and I pound my chest with the thunder clasps of words only a heart can read for who.....Nobody else because I love you.

Saying I Like You Isn't The Same As I Love You

Once upon a rhyme our heartz symbolized wordz that climbed the tallest mountainz in the whole wide world.

On dayz where letterz combined with wind, rain, and heated pazzion, I did everything in my mind to tell you I loved you.

with such a beautiful aura, you are never boring and I'm the happiest when you are by my side making my fairy-tale "Z" come true never making me feel blue rhyming always I love you.

Jason Humber

The Line Between Us Is The Equator Of Love

Carry me home to the place where dreams come true and my friend Zen is always there to make me smile and love life.

Take hold of your Zen and never let go. When life goes south it is the equator you stand next to that will give you the memories that will always bring a smile to what is true beauty and love.

The Rainbow Colors Of Blue, Yellow, Red, And You

When love seems like every color of black and white, look where raindrops skip and you will find the waterfall of true greatness, one puddle glistening at a sunset smile hiding behind the blue in your love for life, Yellow inside your golden child and red the most powerful color of why we love you.

Jason Humber

Tonight I'M Your Knight

I hear the sounds of your beautiful hair blowing in the night.
Tonight I bring my horse closer to your heart so I may hold you right.
It takes two nights to live and love the way you deserve to smile.
I open my eyes and lock on my Armour chest to be the knight's moon that I hope it is always you I see through your aroma of pretty colors Today, Tomorrow, and I'm your only knight in shining heart-mour.

Turtle Dove

Sometimes we hide inside our shells from the world all above.
I see a mile all around when my mind is focused on one smile.
I take the needle of inspiration and ink my passion of your name onto my heart I beat with every beat from the hair of a straightness that when you produce a little bend in your mouth the world does what every flower breaths and when you stick your head out for the universe to see....The most important is 'to tell of true dove'

We Are Unearthed, Unhurt, Unheart...Unreal

We look at 10 percent of life and smile only 1 percent... we are incased in our body glove and always searching for passion and love.

We are unidentified flying subjects with high dreams and low flying persons of interest.

It takes one small hug to feel lust and two giant leaps beyond our dreams to be all that we can be and as we walk this Earth, and as real as we can see, we are never Hurt if you believe in the power of love.
