Memories

I remember the beautiful sceneries i saw outside the rectangular window in the frightful airplane ride. Stepping out of the airplane i saw a whole new city that was so extraordinary to my imagination.i heard alot of unpleasent noise that reminded me of the animal noises in a i leave the doors of the airport i ponder to myself were am i? were should i go? do i know anyone here? . Riding in the car of my aunt i stare outside the glommy window looking at the skyscrapers that are so tall as a giraffe feeling that the skyscrapers were steering down at ing my beloved aunts house i smell the aroma of her tasty l i say to myself wow what a splended place to be.I can't wait for the journey that awaits me here.
