My Untold Story

I sit here and think of a story that I can tell
But I have not one
I try to come up with one, but it just won't come out
Then I think of one
I think of my untold story
A story I haven't told anyone
I take out a notebook and pencil and start writing
I write and I write and I write until my hands hurt
And then I'm done
Finished telling my story
Then I tell others
Who are amazed at what I've got
