A Conversation

A conversation between a flower and me

I met a bud
And it said to me

I look pretty
I too when an infant

I will blossom
So shall I

I have fragrance
So do I with my deeds

I spread happiness
So will I

I have thorns
I have up and downs

People love me
So is with me

You are comparing
No I am just feeling

I shall dry
I too when old

I die soon
I have to wait for it

Oh! You dear bud
Said I to it

You are the winner
And I remain as a.....

Sea Shore

Look at the shore
the sand has your foot marks all there still there all of them.

Look at the sky
the same greyish orange glittering on the horizon still there

Look at the layers coming towards the shore still coming and going back

Look at the memories
all in our eyes
still there and will remain forever.

The love for nature
the eternity will long its everlasting till our last breathe.

Sea-Shore

The rain on the sea-shore
the wet sand all around the droplets on the waves of the sea shining making me remember you

your shinny face in the rain
the glossy look of yours
your romantic gesture and open arms

like the waves you call looking at the sea
and the sea shore
full of couples all around

playing children
with their castles waves taking their dreams along the trees waving

the sky lightening
you staring at all things around and I lost in your look and the crazy loving sea shore

Shadow

Shadow

Shadow of love
Or shadows within In no form
love still lives

In their hearts
On their lips
In their souls
Love still lives

Lost in themselves
No boundaries
No cages
Love still lives

No sky nor land
No horizon
Ever meet
Love still lives

Touching shadows
Shadows into shadows
Lost in the beyond world
Love still lives

Distances are there Distances are lost
Reality and shadows
Love still lives.
