

Poetry Series

Karen Harvey
- poems -

Publication Date:
2010

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Karen Harvey(1956)

I live on the beach in Pwllheli on the Llyn Penninsular, North Wales. My poems have been published in a number of magazines, anthologies and I came first in the Poetry Space international poetry competition 2012. I facilitate a local Creative writing group. I enjoy reading, writing, outdoor spaces especially the beach and liminal spaces and am a returning artist.. I have a special interest in writing in healthcare and am a member of Lapidus organisation.

Poetry Please

define
on-line poetry
please

on-line one liners
line on line of
meter or rhyme
or prose
I suppose well -
here goes

Karen Harvey

Postcard

I longed to be the breeze,
that caressed your skin,
the sun that kissed your face.
The long cool drink upon your lips,
in that far distant place.

I wondered if you'd be missing me
as much as I missed you but your words on the postcard
warm me, 'Coming home, I'd rather be with you.'

Karen Harvey