All I Can See Is Hate...

Hate against life
Hate against the people
Love against your pain
Hate against the way you live
Love against someone hurting you
Hate against your body
Love against the cloudy sky
Hate against God
Love against the death

So much pain that makes us sad....so many feelings that we don't know....

But when someone who you love the most is laughing of you...it all comes true.....and you just want to die....like me....
