Auspicious

Everytime when I look at you I see dawn..

You come from the north, the site where each morning I look at...

If I start to compare you with! ! , I'm afraid I'll run out of it..

They say "Beauty is the death of duty" but I say is just the quality of the subject..

The Name wonderful doesn't suit you, Glamorous matches with your beauty.

The sound of your voice, it reach where is unreachable...

The smile that almighty bless you with, it open where is locked..

Your touch is that of an angel from up above.

Let me close my eyes and pray He to say "thank you for making me to meet with the Hero in my story"...

In expression of love there's no a better way, a heart tells you all, look at mine and see if I'm lying..

Gift Of Life

Loving who you are, start by admiring yourself..

Which start by honoring yourself.

Which followed by stop undermining yourself.

Life should be a journey, with the intention to arrive, not to stop in the way..

Start living not existing..

Be the Leiter to yourself.

Be courageous of who you are.

Be proud, be brave, be strong, you know those thought of things. Be the person who pull yourself up..

glorious is attained after some sacrifice..

Happiness, well that one you cull yourself to have..

Peace is procured by those who presume, that yesterday and today will never be the same..

A smiling face, inducement more life in ones heart...

Imagination of life is way more complicated..

You, yourself you are the one who give life a suitable definition, Life depends upon your view in reality...

Oh Africa

Oh Africa, protect your children.
Every day the confusion is growing.
Hope has left our hearts, is been days now..
We pray only to live, so we can see tomorrow..
Ohh Africa protect your children..

Our days have gone dark in a light day..
Poverty has marked us all sides, and hunger increases in every chance it get..
Ohh Africa protect your children..
Our happiness is for are moment, just to give to remind our hearts that we are still alive..
Terror (covid-19) that we were running from it now is on our backs, indeed we are losing lives..
Every day our eyes are filled with tears..
Every moment our hearts are full of pain..
Ohh Africa protect your children..
"We shall recover, we shall overcome and we shall prosper"
