The Joy You Bring

happiness, is created pure out of love and joy.

i want to share that with anyone around me.
like warm sunshine around march.
the beginning of spring.

happiness, like the plum trees.
joy like the color pink leaves.

is a pleasure, a gift to be absolutely unconditionally
on the brighter side of anything.

i am, always happy.
because whats hurts on the inside, wont effect my smile on the outside

i wont let it get the best of me.
keeping that simple, being happy is easy.

look at the better things in life.
finer things, arent as important as the people who makes you smile.
happiness is a privledge

your morals, priority, options, destiny, & your life.
your path, the fate.
where do you want to go.

happiness comes from the heart.
to be able, to suffer.
for someone else.

endless things makes me happy and one of them is you.
and i cant go on with out the joy you bring.
my happiness is added unto.
when i see you, smile.

<3 Linda.
