mientras sentirse puedan en un beso dos almas confundidas; mientras exista una mujer hermosa, ¡Habrá poesía!

From Rima IV, by Gustavo Adolfo Bécquer; it was he, who when I was a teenager would inspire me to write. And so I wrote... until one day I wrote no more, and I would dream no more, and I would feel no more, and I would live no more - and made myself busy making a living as I endeavored to traverse life's mundane roads. And while a thousand roads lead men forever to Rome, out of Romulus and Remus, and in the dawning of Pollux and Castor begotten, would emerge the most unlikely and unexpected of muses - when in a fleeting moment during the Dragon's watch, in the far-away land of the Lion and the Mermaid, a chance encounter would blind me with her radiance and enchant me with her fragrance. Merely an acquaintance; alas, evermore so platonic, and the impossibility of it all - it cannot and will not be! So she must never know how I feel - but the world will. For I saw the Beauty of the world reflected in her eyes, and the sound of her name is Joy to the angels in the skies. And so the Tiger within me was tamed at last; and then I wrote again...

A Thought For You

Radiant instance of feminine form Elate my soul with your provocative presence

Glide towards my arms in ecstasy extended
Into my burning passion of living love

Navigate the stars with me until the end of time Allow me to relent
and kiss your lips of wine

Amor Eterno

Las estrellas se caerán del infinito firmamento y la noche sobre el día por siempre velará; pero hasta la muerte, y con mi último aliento entre las tinieblas, mi voz por tu alma clamará.

Los mares se secarán, y los pájaros ya no volarán los justos a las manos de los impíos se rendirán; pero aunque ciego y hasta en mi final momento mis frágiles pinceles tu rostro en el vacío pintarán.

Como un débil cristal la tierra se despedazará, relámpagos y truenos; y la furia proveniente del cielo.
Pero cuando la paloma prenda nuevamente el vuelo, el viento entre los silenciosos escombros ambulará, y todavía ardiendo, la llama eterna de tu amor encontrará.

Azucena

Eres flor de ayer, hoy y mañana - perfume perenne pétales que ni en el más árido desierto se marchitan mujer de paso firme, sellas tu destino con las huellas que ni el viento ni la arena se atreven a borrar

Eres la dulce melodía que mora en nuestros corazones y el latido del tuyo, la nota que une los ecos del recuerdo Eres la sonrisa que inspira la inquebrantable amistad que ni el tiempo ni la lluvia se atreven a olvidar

Beginnings

the innocence of a look, the first time strangers meet the words eyes confess, the ones lips dare not speak passionate souls await the end of the formal introduction body heat rises, desires, now time for the erotic seduction thoughts and fantasies, dreams and future possibilities burning hands touch and explore unknown sensualities sand and waves, under the sun, naked bodies shine candles and wine, under the moon, tongues entwine two friends, two lovers, consumed in a vibrant anticipation as one, both relish the satisfaction of the ultimate exaltation an unexpected affair, not a calculated game to lose or win not a conquest, but the way a beautiful love ought to begin

Marco Antonio Solano

Comeuppance

let the tribulation end, I seek no retribution malice I don't feel, though destitute I walk I solicit not the annihilation of my destroyer for divine is the hand that imparts restitution if by evil hearts my heart should in turn bleed I shall not forsake it with avenging thoughts but with much kindness my tongue will speak and take no wrong - and so in turn succeed

Danza De Venus

Con paso de bailarina trazas tu silueta entre las estrellas del firmamento; incapaces de alcanzar ni tu sombra, los demás admiran tu cada movimiento

Con equilibrio de acróbata y elegancia de artista, resuelta marchas hacia tu meta; dueña de tu futuro, conquistadora y malabarista, entre tierra y cielo - itú, el cometa!

Defiance

disintegrated into pieces numerous as the stars in the skies above no larger than grains of sand scattered along a desolate beach washed away by waves of pain, swallowed into the ocean's deep at the bottom, drowned in melancholy, never to emerge - forgotten deteriorated in abeyance between infinity and eternity without love the past circles the future like a vulture, the present out of reach the night stalks over a bed of nails, on the ceiling clings elusive sleep underneath the pillow asphyxiated: soul, body, heart and mind - rotten overwhelming affliction throngs the essence until more is not enough forbearance depleted, to no avail the search for someone to beseech palpitation of cessation; at last one more step before the pernicious leap perplexity, the ultimate neglect of the created by the eternally-begotten snared into a world where truth and lie, reality and illusion coalesce the futile pursuit of vindication notwithstanding - I shall never acquiesce

Der Edelstein

wie sich der flüchtige Wind durch die Welt schlängelt so ist auch das Leben: weder kurz noch lang trotzdem nur ein paar Zeilen in der Geschichte der Zeit durch tiefen Täler und über grüne Wiesen manchmal gebogen, aber niemals gebrochen bläst der Wind zum Rhythmus ihres eleganten Tanzes stolz und furchtlos und als einzige aus der großen Zahl ersteht die Blume, die am hellsten blüht die schönste Blume, die wir alle lieben und wenn der Wind Deinen Duft über den Ozean trägt und damit die Erinnerung an unsere gemeinsamen Jahre dann wird unser Weg von Deiner unverwelkten Schönheit erhellt und bevor unsere Seelen ins All schließlich segeln werden zählten wir bei all unseren Segnungen Deiner edlen und beständigen Freundschaft dazu und aus den Zeilen die wir ins Buch des Lebens geschrieben haben wirst Du für immer die unvergesslichste Seite sein

Different Worlds

two lips, one heart two hearts, one soul two souls lost, one spirit free one spirit fleeing the world... you and me two lips of fire that touch, eyes closed two hearts of desire, dreaming about the things that can never be two different worlds... you and me

Dreams Of Fire

If you are ever lying in your bed in the darkness of the night and amidst the shadows you see a light darling mine, that is the flame of my love that burns for you like a fire bright and hot moment after moment, longing to be where now I'm not

Marco '89

If you are ever so anxious and embrace your pillow and to your face hold it tight and you smell the sweet aroma that reminds you of our night darling mine, that is the scent of my body and roses I used to send in times past when you held me next to you, and forever it seemed to last

And if you are hot and restless and take your covers off and between the sheets you feel a soft breeze that envelopes your perfect body to please darling mine, that is my hand that touches you, caressing your each and every inch with my fingertips, from your face all the way down to your feet and then back up until our eyes meet

If your mouth is dry and suddenly your lips are moist and filled with the taste of wine that makes your body long for mine darling mine, you taste my lips kissing yours quenching your thirst for me and mine for you more and more you into me and me into you

And if you hear the sounds of the wind as it plays with the things around making music with every different sound darling mine, that is my voice that whispers gently and sensually in your ear until 'I love you, I love you', is all you hear

And when you wake up the morning after and reach out to hold my hand but open your eyes to see and empty space where I used to be, and wonder how can a dream ever feel so real, and you ask yourself if I still care oh darling mine, I tell you this:

for that night when you thought you were dreaming that night... I was really there!

Marco Antonio Solano

Drops Of Wine

among night shadows, your fugitive silhouette of resplendent beauty I quest with dancer's grace you traverse the midnight mist leaving me intoxicated by the trail of your scent the morning-after, resigned to reminisce about your lips of wine that mine thirst to kiss wishing I had rather died by the poison of your tongue than to agonize by my own wants reflected in your eyes but to die there - on your bosom with my hand reaching out for yours a moment of resurrection never to forget in exchange for a lifetime of pains forever to regret shall I not succumb to your caress?

shall I, beloved mine, my furtive feelings not confess?

El Desafío

Desintegrado en pedazos tan numerosos como las estrellas en el cielo, ninguno más grande que los granos de arena que yacen esparcidos a lo largo de la desolada playa.
Arrastrado por olas de dolor, tragado por el profundo océano; en su fondo, ahogado en la melancolía, sin poderemerger - olvidado.

Deteriorado en el suspenso de mi trance, y entre el infinito y la eternidad, abarca mi soledad.
El pasado rodea el futuro como un buitre; el presente, ausente y fuera de mi alcance.
La noche me acecha sobre una cama de clavos, en el techo se aferra el sueño que no logro alcanzar; debajo de la almohada se encuentran asfixiados:
alma, cuerpo y mente - mi corazón: destrozado.

La aflicción oprime mi esencia, y entre más sufrimiento me inflige, despiadada me mira, y más me exige.
La paciencia agotada, en vano la búsqueda por alguien a quien le pueda suplicar.
Siento la palpitación de mi vida al cesar; ya solo queda un paso más para llegar al precipicio, y a su orilla en mi efímero indulto poder contemplar:
el salto mortal que finalmente termine mi desquicio.
Perplejidad, el abandono definitivo del creado por el eternamente engendrado.

Atrapado en un mundo donde la verdad y la mentira, la realidad y la ilusión se confunden, y mi cordura delira, donde el cadáver de la esperanza quedó sepultado en un podrido rincón;

...pero ni aunque las llamas del propio infierno de mis piernas encadenadas me arrastren muerto y mis despojos entierren en el huerto de la perdición: ¡jamás y nunca me rendiré!

El Faro

érase un día de lluvia en mi niñez donde en el pueblo del Cid recorría las resbaladosas aceras y en tu hogar me ofreciste refugio y la mano de un hermano que no tenía y celebramos con risas las inocencias compartimos la jornada de nuestra juventud tu amistad sincera fué testimonio de tu virtud y el heraldo del hombre en que te convertirías y en mi vida adulta donde la suerte me ha llevado por los rincones del mundo que he contemplado amistades leales, personas y personalidades pero un amigo semejante a tí, nunca he hallado fuese no volverte a ver sino hasta en mi vejez ¿cómo te honraría? - ¿cómo te reconocería? serías tú el galán espírito que luce su riqueza con un bastón de justicia y manto de nobleza

El Manantial

Día tras día rueda entre luz y sombra mundo que alrededor de su eje mundano, como un trompo febril siempre gira y gira

Con su fuerza centrífuga fatalmente, al pródigo quien sin escrúpulos vive al surco del crepúsculo al azar tira

Pero tú que moras en el fértil llano e impávidamente en su tierra te plantas con fecunda labor de tus propias manos del amor una simiente de fe siembras

De tu inagotable fuente de coraje un manantial que alimenta su inocencia, brota imparable una reluciente vida;
y así ante ti, el mundo rendido suspira

El Motivo

Como la ola que vagabunda va rodando sin saber ni qué viento ni qué marea la tiró al azar; mas corre incesantemente hacia las imponentes rocas, y con todas sus fuerzas contra ellas vase a reventar; para así con su último aliento, las arenas doradas de su playa esperándole, con su alma irlas a coronar.

Así aguardo yo: que me reveles tan solo un motivo por el cual permitiera que mi amor sea tu cautivo.

El Poema

Yo soy aquel quien te acaricia dulcemente sin tocar aquel quien susurra en tus oídos las palabras del amor Yo soy aquel quien escribe de ti, de mí, quien recuenta nuestras historias aquel quien se desliza en tu corazón y recoge sus pedazos

Yo soy aquel quien te hace querer soñar con un mejor mañana aquel quien entiende tus penas con tan solo una mirada Yo soy aquel quien siente tu dolor y seca tus escondidas lágrimas aquel quien te toma de la mano cuando confrontas tus más profundos temores

Yo soy aquel quien escribe de tiempos y lugares que añoras visitar el mar en el desierto, el espejismo tus sedientos ojos quieren mirar Yo soy aquel quien busca el sendero que tus pies no se atreven a caminar el lamento de las olvidadas voces que hace mucho dejaron de clamar

Yo soy la llama en la oscuridad que por siempre arderá el recuerdo del momento que ya nunca más volverá Yo soy aquel quien enseña lo que desapasionados nunca entenderán la página que nunca fue leída, y que hasta el viento ignoró voltear

Yo soy el sueño en busca de mi soñador - no me despiertes la gota de rocío en el pétalo de la rosa que el tiempo olvidó Yo soy aquel quien te abraza y consuela en tus ansias y tu soledad el manantial de esperanza y calma que fluye para llenar los vacíos de tu alma

Yo soy la candela en la noche, que refleja la luz de tu espíritu el caleidoscopio de la vida, de regocijo y tristeza, nieve y granizo; porque yo vivo en tu corazón, porque tus luchas ya las he conquistado porque soy yo: la derramada sangre de un poeta - que hace mucho, vivió!

El Roble

con tranquilidad, ni el más mínimo detalle escapa su atención no hay quien pueda calcar ni su arte ni su virtud, ni su ingenio resuelve todo con mente meticulosa y curiosa, y paciente mano día o noche, no hay problema al que no encuentre su solución es roble cuya raíz alimenta y cuya sombra refugia a su legado es alma gentil, amigo de siempre, y nuestro querido hermano

Eternal Love

the stars shall plunge from the sky and the night over day forever fall but with my last breath until death my devoted lips your name will call oceans shall dry and birds cease to fly the good to the wicked will surrender but forever and until the end of time the look of your face I will remember like a fragile crystal the earth will shatter lightning and thunder and fury from high above but when all of this shall come to pass still standing will burn the flame of my love

E????

Erato fue acaso un sueño, recuerdo de aquel pasado cuyo perfume hechizado hincó mi alma ante su dueño.

Tez de miel, pelo trigueño sútil silueta gitana sabor de flor italiana, donde en mi lengua de hombre todavía tiembla el nombre de aquella mujer romana.

Faded Dreams

crimson waves wash ashore, just like before decadence drowning all aspiration the elite not even wet, keeps its lore contemplating nation against nation still their thirst unquenched, they hunger for more forlorn masses exposed to searing rain no more concern for their offspring that weep posterity will endeavor worse pain while the opulent turn away and sleep tomorrow their remorse may be in vain all the words have already been written perhaps in time they will also be read bodies dead - but their hands still try to clasp the elusive dream that already fled

Gotas De Vino

entre las sombras de la noche, tu fugitiva silueta de replendeciente belleza busco sin cesar, con pasos de bailarina atraviesas la bruma de la medianoche dejándome intoxicado por el aroma de tu cuerpo al pasar y a la mañana siguiente, me resigno al recordar tus labios de vino, que los sedientos míos quisieron besar; deseando haberme muerto por el veneno de tu roja lengua en vez de haber agonizado por mi codicia reflejada en tus ojos pero morirme ahí, sobre tus senos con mi mano estrechándose con la tuya; un momento de resurrección que jamás olvidaré en cambio por una vida de la cual siempre me arrepentiré.

¿Acaso no debiera a tu caricia sucumbir?
¿Acaso, amada mía, no debiera por mis furtivos anhelos sufrir?

Hopeless Love

caprice of fate, that we would once share, a beautiful dream calamity of love, the feelings we shared, we'll never forget ardent flames, lost in the fire, and tears astray in the sea from the beginning, the end was inevitable, though no regret torn by the choices we both made kept us from being together pride too strong to realize we were sacrificing our tomorrow hurting one another, without reason or wanting was so tragic after the rage was over our crying eyes expressed the sorrow endless nights shared, without each other, where shall we go now separate paths our lives will journey, ignoring the pain restless souls, to love or be loved, ever a constant dilemma searching the right answer, the struggle within, all in vain illicit affairs, nothing could suffocate the burning passion holding on, to treasured memories of times now, forever gone never again feeling the intense fervor and unquenchable lust hopelessly haunted by the vivid remembrance of our last dawn emotions in the wind, everything bestowed nothing else to do both listen for the sounds of children, that will never play aspirations of yesterday, all the illusions we so much yearn lovers loved, like winter snow on a summer's day melted away neglecting to be together, now we won't have to use an alibi expectations that were never met, a future that could not be nectar of desire we once longed but today it would not be so lovers loved, flames burned, two hearts that were you and me

Illusions Of The Heart

Love, sometimes it feels so right even though it might be wrong Lovers, one is always the weak while the other plays it strong

Is it just a game of give and take but what is real and what is fake Life, promises are made, promises are broken but once life is gone, what is then left?
Emotions in the wind, regrets tearing us apart memories of the mind and illusions of the heart

Love, the times you saw black I insisted to see white Lovers, you had to say day each time I said night

Is it just a game of yes and no but part of me wants to stay, the other wants to go Time, moments are shared, moments are forgotten but once time is gone, what is then left?
Emotions in the wind, regrets tearing us apart
memories of the mind and illusions of the heart

Love, some times we shared were good but others instead were bad Lovers, we could make each other happy but we chose to make us sad

Is it just a game of live and die but should I laugh or should I cry Feelings, words or caring, words of hate but once feelings are gone, what is then left?
Emotions in the wind, regrets tearing us apart
memories of the mind and illusions of the heart

Love, how strange are its beginnings though even stranger are its ends Lovers, now they are enemies though they used to call each other friends

Is it just a game of joy and sorrow but should I remember yesterday or dream about tomorrow Love, kisses of passion, kisses of deceit but once love is gone, what is then left?
Emotions in the wind, regrets tearing us apart
memories of the mind and illusions of the heart

In Fire And Blood

I detest to beg and begging I wait waiting my heart goes from fire to ice going, longing soon it will be too late loving, knowing it is you I despise

I hate loving you, but love to hate you before loving you, I will rather die but die to love you, for I long your touch and without your touch, I laugh in my cry in this tragedy I'm the one who dies and spite incinerates my pilgrim soul for I choose to be blind with open eyes and in pieces pray never to be whole still, after my ashes sink in the mud I will love again - in fire and blood

Jinete Andaluz

Luna llena que en el cielo ilumina la silueta cual riendas de oro sujetan jinete andaluz en vuelo.
Con rosas y una violeta cabalga entre las estrellas sobre su corcel alado y deja en sus sendas huellas que zurcen dulces centellas: él, quien siempre amó y fue amado.

La Luna

Envuelto en tiniebla te admiré en toda tu deslumbrante plenitud, penetrando la penumbra de mi noche fría, un inalcanzable hechizo; cuál rumbo incógnito sin compás y ciego fui a perseguir, y en el pantano de tus pasos sin huellas, contemplé mi alma hundir.

Mas nunca me ofreciste un futuro, y en vez perturbaste mi lasitud con la ilusión de un pasado, rugiendo en el olvido que la deshizo.
Me confundiste con un murmullo que suspiraba al corazón el vil consejo, saeta mortal disfrazada de luz, fingiendo la verdad con un reflejo.

¿Mas porqué no sigo el sendero que ilumina el sol y donde sopla el viento?
y en vez le niego mi faz; y de rodillas le ruego que reniegue su tiempo.
Y al rendir mi derecho de elegir le otorgo al cruel destino su diseño;
y me pierdo en el insólito crepúsculo buscando la luna en mi sueño.

La Musa

del viento que sopla risas con alas entre uno u otro remolino y del vendaval que a brisa pasa fuiste tú mi primer suspiro de la tempestad donde lágrimas se ahogan en lo profundo del río y del arcoíris que en la lluvia canta fuiste tú la gota de rocío de mi alma que aprendió a amar y después aún con corazón partido y entre muerto y vuelto a resucitar fuiste tú mi último latido de las amorfas palabras en la bruma que elusivas brotan de mi pluma las esculpiré para ti en sangre y vino y serás tú mi poema y yo tu destino

Lost Seasons

winter snow shall softly fall from silver-lined clouds more white and pure than the flakes of years now gone from the sky down to your feet, alluringly floating they will dance and deliver promises of a new dawn the splendor of crystal lakes reflected in your eyes captivating, they shall summon a smile from your face through the bedroom window gazing at the frost-glazed trees and perhaps with another warm body will yours lace but the winter snow that saw us play with open hearts passionately embraced and falling in love together the diamond flakes that gently caressed our lips as we kissed and the cold nights we shared when we loved forever winter days and nights when we stared at each other and in our warm bed we played and fires used to burn do not beguile yourself, for my beloved partner our fanciful feelings and that winter, shall not return spring flowers shall blossom, bright and young and wild more beautiful than the precious petals of years now past with their arousing aroma your face they will caress and your happiness for eternity will seem to last birds will gather and for you sing new romantic songs with mesmerizing melodies dreams in you they will evoke the hand of a stranger will be there for you to hold and with its touch, your wanting body will provoke but the spring flowers that saw us laugh and saw us touch times when like children we joyfully played in the park those emerald petals that silently watched us in our room when our deepest fantasies we fulfilled in the dark spring days and nights when we slept in each other's arms and deep and pure love dwelled and fires used to burn do not betray yourself, for my sweet and only darling our magic moments and that spring, shall not return summer waves shall wash ashore, shells strewn on the sand with seductive sounds more enticing than the ones the years forgot new ships will arrive bringing offerings that will intrigue they will sail towards adventures more exotic than what we begot the sun will shine on you brighter than ever, sizzling and from within your beckoning body, arise shall a new flame words will be whispered to your ear, and desires spoken you will feel and your lips shall call upon another name but the summer waves that bathed our naked bodies the breeze on our faces and the sparkling sand under our feet the sapphire waters and the sensual shells that to your ear I held looks and sentiments we shared as entwined we fell asleep summer days and nights when echoes of ardent love and searching tongues touched and fires used to burn do not delude yourself, for my cherished lover our mystic ecstasy and that summer, shall not return fall leaves shall part from trees and your portrait paint with colors more vibrant than the ones of years now astray and with a crisp air your will walk new paths to conquer you will be showered with blessings of a better day new stars shall decorate the nights your eyes contemplate from its deep sleep your dormant heart will perchance awake another's path you will cross, and destiny may reveal a new love for that someone, you will learn to give and not to only take but the desert storm blew our fall leaves mercilessly into oblivion along with all the years we threw away with made-up reasons for our souls, hearts, and bodies as one, best times of our lives one day each of us will secretly cry and yearn for our lost seasons for those ruby fall days and nights when consumed in adoration without reservation I gave and fires used to burn do not deceive yourself: for my untamed passion and devotion and the way I loved you; and that fall - will never return

Música Yo

¿Quién eres tú?

Eres solamente un capricho del antaño un trozo abandonado de madera silenciosa, esculpido por alguien quien ahora ni te quiere tocar.

¿Quién soy yo?

Soy aquel quien con su ágil mano misteriosa busca tu solitaria nota y hace tus cuerdas vibrar; soy tu seductora voz que contra el viento sopla la melodía que da forma a las errantes olas del mar.

Eres tú nada más la gitana guitarra que detrás del espejo duerme escondida, y en secreto anhela el retorno de su dueño; y al despertarte, mudo y congelado en ti contemplo: mi propio reflejo!
¿Acaso serías tú el valiente soñador - y yo nada más tu sueño?

On Wings Of Providence

I feel you across the night, I see you in my dreams I yearn for the taste of your lips to set my soul ablaze and whisper your name to the stars, to the moon on wings of fire I take flight towards your downy arms hoping the lingering torment of my wait will end soon as the midnight breeze carries your scent across the ocean I reminisce of when I first saw you; your image, evermore - unfaded against the dark firmament, the contours of your body my fingers trace and stretch my hands to clasp the comet's tail that will take me towards your heart and close enough to touch your celestial face divine destiny, allow me to find repose from my incessant flutter and there my dwelling uncover, and forever rest upon your breast for with stardust I shall write our names across the deep blue skies in hopes of awaking by your side every dawn for the rest of my life and by heaven's fate my quest do find - reflected in your angel eyes

Over You

with a bracing jolt, from my heart I pulled out the poisoned spear though I felt with it departed all the memories I once held so dear blood still dripping from the wound caused by your deadly sword my walk sublime for I endured, you lied - but I still have my word looking back, you or me, there is no telling who was to blame for all that matters is that once bright, there burned a flame too often you made me cry, now lost is the warmth of my smile once I wished we had loved forever, though now glad it was only awhile little by little I have learned to live without the comfort of your touch day by day I forget all those magic moments that once meant so much with the years I will disguise my feelings, laughter and pain, all just the same and by the end of time, perhaps I won't remember your face - or even your name

Palabras

Deja que las palabras broten de tus labios como la miel para buscarlas con mi boca y al libarlas enciendan mi piel.
Deja que su dulce sabor me seduzca; y tú, como la pluma que por el aire baila al pasar desnuda por la efímera bruma.

Pero las palabras, las que compartimos con tan solo miradas son esas que nos raptan las almas dejándolas en rocío cuajadas; son los suspiros interrumpiendo el silencio los que pintan y tallan, los versos del amor cuando en la noche besos repartidos estallan.

Palabras que enlazan tibios anhelos, en el aire son dibujadas, pero promesas esculpidas en fuego, jamás serán quebradas.
No permitas que con tus labios niegues tus furtivos antojos con palabras que tu mirada me confiesa que son mentiras.

Mujer:

deja que tus pestañas me inciten... y mientras mi aliento aspiras, en el silencio del crepúsculo, déjame morir; perdido en tus ojos.

Reflections

breath after breath, step after step, no purpose or destination eyes catch the tired look in the mirror, staring back in resignation I ponder if it is less painful to keep walking in the wrong direction than to stop and contemplate the agony of my own reflection how yesterday's vow turns into tomorrow's forgotten word price of serving mortals and seeking to become my own lord

Marco '94

I wonder if it is misery that forges life guided by the hand of destiny or the wind on the sea that I sail searching the promise of immortality

Requiem Æternam Dona Ei

Hoy mi alma se viste de negro, mi corazón en luto clama a quien de mis huesos no legro; de mi árbol - la perenne rama

...Domine.

Roma

me duermo trazando tu distante rostro con las estrellas de la noche noche de color negro como tu cabello ondulado que acaricia mi cara como una dulce brisa escondida en la bruma que me trae tu perfume al perderme en tu sonrisa y quedar hipnotizado por tus ojos de color castaño sueño con tus labios de fuego que nunca he besado y de tu lengua roja que con la sedienta mía has entrelazado lengua que brota ardiente de tu vientre tus deseos de mujer y de tu seductora boca, la cual añoro que pronuncie mi nombre es tu cuerpo el altar donde con libre albedrío sacrificaría mi ser y por tu amor - hasta mi alma, por ser tan solo hoy - tu hombre y como colibrí que vuela hechizado hacia su flor de miel sembrar en tu fértil tierra y sentirte toda la noche piel a piel pero este dolor ha sido envenenado por los dioses del tiempo quienes nos negaron la misericordia al interponer este puente eterno entre nosotros

pero este amor ha sido desafiado por los dioses del mar quienes secuestraron la esperanza al verter este océano infinito que nos parte en dos

y cuyas olas me arrojan contra las rocas que se ríen al verme sufrir exigiéndome con cada latigazo que me arrepienta y elija mi abismo entre quebrar una promesa consagrada, o traicionarme a mí mismo entre beber de mi jarra de vinagre y agonizar, o de tu copa de vino y morir gitanas almas fuese así que en aquel día de verano en país lejano se cruzaron ilusión mía que nació cuando nuestras miradas brevemente se encontraron una noche quisiera confesarte el secreto que desde entonces oculto en mi rincón susurrar en tu oído cuando estés enamorada de mí y en mis brazos entregada jurarte con cada latido de mi corazón: ti amo, ti amo, ti amerò per sempre

Ser O No Creer

las súplicas del laico quedaron sofocadas por las risas del infierno y la esperanza de la primavera sepultada en los hielos del invierno, el torrencial de lágrimas y sangre inunda los océanos olvidados; pero los hermanos y las hermanas contemplan la lucha desde la orilla y mientras las olas ahogan al lego; ellos se resguardan en la capilla a lo lejos se oyen las sabias palabras tergiversadas por el cretino el hipócrita quien desde su alto púlpito de oro se embriaga con el vino y su congregación con el estupor del sermón aplaude cada mentira luego juntan las manos al rezar, las mismas que no extienden para ayudar sus miradas clavadas en la cruz; y de espaldas a los que fingen salvar con sus frías melodías atormentan mi espíritu: 'iarrepiéntete o muere! ' cantan y bailan en su juego... y yo ya incinerado sigo ardiendo en el fuego y desde el cielo... los ojos de ángeles ven pero ni siquiera pestañean mientras algunas almas ascienden, mas muchas más - entre cenizas se quedan

Serendipia

En las aguas tropicales donde los peces nadan y el rey es el delfín, donde en sus costas fértiles el sol naciente siembra la esperanza; ahí vivo yo con mis amores, y la playa mi hogar y la mar mi jardín.

Me deslizo entre las cálidas olas que en un instante me jalan hacia el horizonte, en mi barca el reloj de arena ya ni la hora marca; con la brisa sobre la vela dejo atrás mis anclas.
Soy espíritu libre y navego por adonde quiero... cielo celeste, océano azul - y nubes blancas.

Shadow Hunters

Beware! Illusions I create - unashamed whispered the night to the day I haunt your spirit with a dark mist and lurk in the corners of the shadows silently stalking and under many a guise with my lies and wicked hands and until day's end I will seek to make the weak my prey

I am aware alright, albeit always unafraid! riposted the day to the night It is you who is the hunted - run! for I am both Day and Knight I own the twilight, the dusk and the dawn I give my Word: at my feet and by night's end you will lay slain by my sword of Light

Sin Remedio

Fueron aquella vez los destellos del mediodía de nuestra inocencia su asedio; derritiendo los muros con su melodía se rozaron nuestros labios, y aspiramos un beso.

Selló así el sol en aquel imborrable intermedio, un destino abrasador de perpetua melancolía.

Pero cuando cayó la noche sobre un lienzo terso, y los ecos de dos latidos se reunieron sin remedio, se cruzaron nuestras vidas... y pintamos un verso.

Tacit Allurement

the mouth that teases with a sigh lover's eyes that lure with a stare a hand poised on a willing thigh while rampant cravings quickly flare reticent whispers their thoughts deny a bashful touch bearing secret desires beyond trying to comprehend why not or why into the night - one flame out of two fires playfully exploring their passionate game eagerly satisfying any wish they name lips and tongues; and naked skins are felt into one heartbeat - two shivers melt

The Air That I Write

hear, the sounds of whispers in your deaf ear the voices that call, harrowing feelings that crawl words written in air, born out of love and despair today in fire begotten, tomorrow with haste forgotten see the flaming eyes, the flickers of impending demise light that tapers from within, attestation of places been echoes of silence, cast upon ears of brazen indifference words there in gold etched, here in blood pledged feel their hearts pound, the fears that their souls confound hands reaching out from beneath, through waters that seethe oblations in vain, though please deign to grant quittance from pain now ostensible commiseration, then their plea turns into vexation unveil your disguise, this is not your sole paradise time disdain will expose, and of your vile ways dispose hear or see or feel, but heed the derelict's appeal so that words are not lost in spite, this air that I write

The Carnage

And from the deepest, darkest, and most sinister abyss your true self arose your sword of hatred you swung, even when I was pleading on my knees without compassion, relentlessly a cruel carnage upon me you unleashed and with a macabre smile, my heart, my mind, and my soul you besieged

Growing inconspicuously inside the cocoon of our love that I so much nourished not a butterfly, but a deadly wasp would emerge and then turn against me the pain of its sting too much to bear, its venom I shall carry to my grave my spirit pierced, my dignity and pride stolen, my own life I could not save Never will I be able to live again, to give to others that which you took my devotion, hope, my love, and the trust that once upon you I bestowed from the beginning with malice, carefully a web of deceit you weaved without a clue, all the words from your mouth, all the lies... I believed

In the middle of the night, I still cry out for you, out of love and pain my heart drowned in tears of the torture you imposed, my mind in disbelief surely the signs were always there, the arrogance and the lack of compromise blinded by your promises, how was I to know that my love would mean my demise

Ending our love without even honoring the times we shared with each other nothing was salvaged, not the faintest magic moment was left unblemished alive and awake the most horrible of nightmares I live, taunted by your face without refuge, incessantly running from the remembrance, hiding in disgrace

Suffering is all there is left, my strength drained by the struggle of your hate I find no relief in hope for a better tomorrow, for it too succumbed to you heartlessly there you stood, your words of devastation still echo in my mind I begged for the truth, I searched but you eluded, the answers I could not find

Zeal of the love you once feigned in days now past, all the dreams, just a farce everything your own conception, carefully orchestrated for a self-serving purpose you never intended to stand by my side, to listen to my cries when I was sad without regard for anything we shared, you threw away everything good we had

Kisses that once tasted of wine, now forever vinegar will linger on my lips I feel the anguish of your legacy and my agony grows with every beat of my heart

I curse he who speaks your name and the day we first met, everything I regret the pain deep within my soul, my body already dead, I wish I could forget

Alone in my despair, filled with poison, I come to rest and breathe my last air the image of you I once held so dear, I fear not, for your derision lies exposed though no game to win or lose, those things within me that you could not see beloved, what have you done? - but behold, for I will arise anew with love still in me!

The Last Word

freed by fraud from my solicitation you claim I'm the source of consternation and so elude responsibility by staining me with culpability ears that hear lies, for their eyes cannot see the dark hand that did injustice to me though in time an advocate I will find no respite until I reach peace of mind and my quest shall be the vengeance for truth with words the world will know, and my soul soothe for my absolved name will live throughout time if yours beside, only because of mine for it's not a matter of how, just when I shall stab and kill thee with my sage pen

The Poem

I am he who gently caresses you without a touch the one that to your ears whispers words of love I am he who writes of you and me, who writes of us the one that slithers into your heart when you fall apart

I am he who makes you want to dream about tomorrow the one that with only a look understands your sorrow I am he who feels your pain and dries your hidden tears the one that holds your hand and knows your deepest fears

I am he who writes of times and places your soul hungers to be the ocean in the desert, the mirage your eyes thirst to see I am he who searches the lost path your feet dare not walk the laments of unheard voices who long ago ceased to talk

I am the flame in the darkness that will forever burn the remembrance of moments that will never return I am the one who teaches what cold hearts cannot learn the unread page that even the wind neglected to turn

I am the lost dream seeking my dreamer - wake me not the drop-of-dew on the petal of the rose that time forgot I am the one that embraces and consoles your loneliness the river of hope that comes flowing to fill your emptiness

I am the candle in the night that reflects your inner-light life's kaleidoscope of joy and pain, snow and freezing rain for I can feel your heart and conquer your strife for I am: the blood of a poet - who was once alive

The Tempest Within

I linger in deep lassitude, in solitude as knaves beset my life and against me contrive one truth defeated by two lies, deceiving eyes mastering the multitude with shrewd attitude each torment probes my sanity with cruelty inside the eye of the storm, yet more tempests form the betrayal by the one once held most loyal twisting reality with grim mortality inside, the inferno coils as my spirit spoils I should have heeded the presage on your visage the impending end is here, your prize was too dear your hand rapture foils, my soul for survival toils neither angels can descry your foreboding grin nor your suitor now, foresee the tempest within

The Vow

Shall I dream of heavens and angel wings of pleasures and treasures and golden rings of crowns and might and diamond crests of eternal youth and fame to gentiles impress

When time untrimmed shall thus silently pass and fleeting fortunes faded in dust disperse when proud kings lie prostrate forever forgotten in the cold and distant corners of the dark universe

Then I shall kindle my nights with your constant grace and light my path with your beauty evermore undimmed for with my last embrace I will whisper your name thereupon love enduring will thus entwine your soul and mine into one immortal flame

To Be Or Not To Believe

cries for help suffocated by hell's laughter tears of pain rain pounding on forgotten oceans brothers and sisters watch waiting the end as waves of terror wash away my very essence

I hear the words of wisdom spoken by fools lying lips pray with hands too proud to handle hearts that won't humble immersed in lavish lives unmoved by tormented souls they pretend to save their sound surrounds my spirit: 'repent or die! ' singing... while I burn in the fiery fire as I try and in heaven, angel eyes don't even blink as some souls rise - yet many more sink

Un Pensiero Per Te

Radiante esencia de forma femenina Exalta mi alma con tu presencia provocativa

Deslízate entre mis brazos en éxtasis extendidos Viértete en nuestros regazos lléname de deseos furtivos

Naveguemos hacia las estrellas en busca de nuestro destino Permíteme claudicar;
y beber de tus labios de vino

Valentine

body scents and wanting eyes nights, sculpting fire from ice rivers of passion that flow melt and fuse us together for comets shall come and go but love will be forever

Visions Of Crystal

dusk, I contemplate the sun set and a new moon rise as the horizon melts with the far blue oceans and skies color by divine hand painted to match your sultry eyes inspiration for all, but for some also their final demise golden streaks on silver clouds that spawn your hair beauty by Venus bequeathed for none can compare skin of velvet and silk, honey and milk, sailing through air name before time written among the stars of your lair dawn, the gods have smiled, the princess is born in satin and lace I endure the precarious walk, and search the way out of life's endless maze though I shall choose to drink from the sacred chalice and so be saved from destiny's pernicious grace I will delight in visions of crystal flames and fires hopelessly beguiled by the mystic reflections of your face

Words

may the words drip from your lips like honey to be licked from the corners of your mouth let their sweet taste seduce and propel me above clouds and through ephemeral skies but those words silently shared with just looks let those ravish me and set my soul free sailing by your sighs beyond the rainbow our verse carved on passion's immortal tree words that bind our yearnings are not spoken for vows etched in fire cannot be broken permit it not for your lips your feelings to deny with words that your keen stare concedes as lies beloved, let your lashes beckon me and in the still of the night - die lost in your eyes
