

Poetry Series

Marissa Lynn
- poems -

Publication Date:
2012

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Marissa Lynn(2-20-1995)

i was born prematurely february 20th 1995 in atlanta ga, to loving and caring parents. at the age of 12 i was reped, thats when i starter writing poems, later when i was 15 i fell in love with an amazing guy, but three days after he proposed to me, he killed him self. if you wanna know more email me at mlynn@

Beacause Of Suicide

never again will i love so deeply as was my love for he only time can mend the sorrow
but never will my heart be whole

i never knew that love
sutch a sacred word
could cause so much
pain and sorrow

now i lay
brusies on my arms
hoping the pain
will bring you back

i never felt so hurt
untill i got that call
im sorry, your lovers dead

now i stand
gun at hand
but i cant bring myself
to join you

so with blood shot eyes
i lower my hand
hoping for another to come and wisk my heart away

Marissa Lynn

Cherry Blossom Haiku

like the swaying of the flowers
on the branches
of a cherry blossom tree
my heart beats only for him

Marissa Lynn

Graveyard Masquerade

gliding through the grave stones
she walks so silently
passing by concrete slabs
with meaningless words
and lovely bouquets

she cries for the souls of the lost for the living who have lost loved ones and for the so called gods who let their children suffer

do they intend to make us go insane are we just pawns in a twisted game no words can explain
the sorrow we all hold
suffering are our souls

Marissa Lynn

Suicide Rose

bright and red
are the petals
of a rose warm
in the summer sun

along comes a strong
storm of emotions
uprooting its
only support

now withered and brown
a rain drop tear
falls from its petals
as it curls within itself
falling to the dirt

Marissa Lynn