

Poetry Series

Ndianabasi David

- poems -

PoemHunter.com

Publication Date:
2024

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

Ndianabasi David()

Ndianabasi Emmanuel David, a literally artist, who enjoys writing books as the results of his love for literary Works.

He found himself to be a potential poet and a writer, he has written various poems in his opinion to enhance knowledge and educate all literary students globally.

PoemHunter.com

Endless Journey

One Express Lane two
Decision my only refuge
which Lane breaths fortune?
My heart went silent
If i... be an angel
I could go before the wind
Marching on both Lane
As just as fair
Only a few Attempt to try
Perhaps it is not as though
Yet there is need
Then I took to my heel
Untill the Lane darkened
I doubt if there is need for race
To such an endless lane
I doubt if I should ever come back
I could only be broke not poor
I was never a traveler
I was only after my course

Ndianabasi David

'We Can't All Be Hero'

We live a life of challenge,
But the victors are the able bodied men,
They get to stand on the curb and clap,
As the victim falls by...

Who will redeem my noble friends?
When the lions will call on the lamp,
Upon a duel for freedom,
Upon a duel for leadership...

Only the legends will answer,
To the call for a wooden sword,
While awaiting the ship captain,
We sailors should be hopeful...

As the day goes by,
So will the tyrants,
As the crown of power sounds for the initiate,
For we can't all be hero.

Ndianabasi David