A Few Words

A few words,
they can say so much,
with only a few words,
they can show anger,
they can show sadness,
they can show happiness,
just with a few words

Come Undone

I'm unraveling at the seams, I'm not the man that I used to be,
I feel like I'm someone else,
It's like my soul has been traded,
I just have the same body,
I've Come Undone

The Road Untraveled

Let us take the road untraveled,
It could lead us somewhere special,
down a side road,
that we would have never taken,
we didn't know it was there,
let's just go down this road,
see where it takes us, see what kind of adventures we could have,
see what kind of trouble I can get into,
let's take the road untraveled.

Wake Up

Wake up to the world around you,
Look at what is happening,
We are destroying ourselves,
Taking everything for granted,
Fighting with one another,
Over money, politics and religion,
We all need to wake up,
