A Place I Wish

Lying on the bed with imagination ruling my mind, I wonder if there exist a place where happiness I can find.

A place far away from this selfish land where I can be me,
A place where there are no restrictions and I can fly free.

A place which lack emotions, feelings and pain,
A place where there is God to walk along with me on every lane.

A place where wonders and magic exist,
So that I can forget the things I want to, so that I can get out of this pain and suffering too.

A place where money doesn't rule,
A place where no one can be made fool.

A place where exist loyalty,
A place where love is free of durability

A place where only our loved ones exist, with whom I can spend infinite time, Where I can spread happiness around and like a bright star I shine.

A place where I can meet God whenever I'm low,
And question him why the things happened so.

Why you sent such person in my life who are not meant to be,
Why have you sent me in this world where I can't be me.

Millions of questions I need to ask to Lord for this suffering, Where is the place you exist lying on the bed I keep wondering...

And The Earth Revolved

the way you treated me, the pain i went through,
You felt the same now,
And The Earth Revolved...

The things I said you,
the way I reacted though,
you are doing the same now,
And The Earth Revolved...

The pain, the sorrow, the promises which you broke, for which I was suffering then, you are suffering for the same now,
And The Earth Revolved...

All the things you didn't understand, all the times you felt I was mad, you have realized them now,
And The Earth Revolved...

Goodbyes Are Hard

After the long conversations, making love out of it, pretending you in my day-dreams,
it's hard to say Goodbye...

Meeting after a long time, spending all the day together, wishing we could never apart,
it's hard to say Goodbye...

Making you mine,
and surrendering myself to you, being in your arms all the time,
it's hard to say Goodbye...

Living each moment together, we promised we'll die together, you can't run without me, when you know it's hard to say Goodbye...

Haste Of Life

How often do you eat right,
How often do you be someone's light,
How often do you solve a fight,
In this haste of life...

Don't you think we're losing ourselves, Pleasing all and being on Sale,
Making a living without any cherriness,
In this haste of life...

Let's take a moment to breath,
Let's make a moment of Love, Let us not just survive, but Live,
In this haste of life...

I Pretend To Be Alright

With sorrow inside my heart and smile on my face, when you go away,
I pretend to be alright..

The innocence of your face and the way you laugh aloud,
When you look at me,
I pretend to be alright..

The moments when we fight and you scream so loud, when you disconnect the phone,
I pretend to be alright...

Every step you walk away and every breath I take without you, when you're simply not around,
I pretend to be alright...

If Only I Had You

The world be more efficient to live, each moment will be bigger to live,
I need now people few to live,
If Only I Had You...

The criticism of people around, the selfishness of them surround, everything I can bear with frown,
If Only I Had You...

The unaccomplished dreams, the way so far which seems,
We can achieve the extremes,
If Only I Had You...

Don't need other love, don't need other company,
all matters none,
If Only I Had You...

Its Hard To Love With Broken Trust.....

My love haven't faint, my feelings haven't changed, you belong to me still the same,
but it's hard to love with broken trust..

Your words still touch my hearts core, and your voice makes my hear go roar, I still need you by my side each time more,
but it's hard to love with broken trust..

I believe in you more than anything, have surrendered this life for our dreams, and will keep loving you, there is no end,
but it's hard to love with broken trust..

Just The Two Of Us For Each Other....

The nights are sleepless without you beside me, how should I tell you, it's you who fantasies me...

The childish talks and the breathless kissing, you never know this are the things which are always pleasing...

Your lips on my lips and your hands on my waist, there's nothing more perfect, it's more than the best...

I just wish it lasts Forever, Just The Two Of Us For Each Other...
Nothing on this planet would be so far better...

My Heart Is Always Yours..

Even if I say you no, even if I tell you to go,
you can still hope from me,
My Heart Is Always Yours..

I'm ready to sacrifice for you,
I'm willing to spend my Life with you,
You can always count on me,
My Heart Is Always Yours..

If you found me happy without you, My heart not beating for you may be you are on my grave then, because My Heart Is Always Yours..

Passing By...

The time we talk on phone waiting long to meet,
The moment when we meet and love each other so deep,
Each word you say, Every breath you take,
Is Passing By...

The tough period of our life,
Where we have to live just dreaming for the sight,
The golden period too where Love is at it's intense height,
Is Passing By...

With each touch of yours,
With each kiss of ours,
Love is getting more strong every time,
And the time is Passing By....

The Virtual World

Everything here from smile to tears,
From boldness to fears,
Is nothing but virtual...

The sweetness of words,
From devil to lord,
Is nothing but virtual...

The dreams being shown,
The promises being made,
From poor to rich,
Is nothing but virtual...

Everything here from darkness to shine,
From Life to Death,
The time that passes by,
Is nothing but virtual...
