Soumen Chattopadhyay(22/11/1977)

was born in a village, Madhutati, purulia, westbengal, adjacent to chottonagpur rocky area, where his childhood hunts -the ponds, the trees, the paddy fields stretching upto horizon and the tribal village festivals in the lap of hills. Grew up in an environment where virgin nature, dry rocky soil, hills and tragedies of mankind clashed together, and turned him to poetry since his school day.

In this strange world of simultaneous beauty and pain, he offered his soul to the sky to share with all, believing that there is no true beginning, no true end and life lies just under the surface of death.

We heard a shout in his poems-“ I have to go to bring the lost soul where dark of endless night calling me for the pure eternal flame...” He was inspired by famous Bengali poet Jibonanda Das and French poet Rimbaud and believes that- “ The discovery of reality can only go forward if we abandon wornout form ” and “ poetry is the desiring machine of all our dreams ” .He always tries to push libertarian creation consistently writes in the first person, and effectively lures us into his world, only to reveal that the “ unspeakable ” is not so very secret after all.

Poems were published to various literary magazines like-“ Charjapod ” , “ Tristop ” , “ Astorag ” , “ Sankha chiler vasa ” , “ Swarobanjon Krishnasis ” , “ kobiwala ” etc.

Graduated from vidyasagar University [(Hons.) in Physics].After passing (Civil Engineering) obtained Mine Managership certificate of competency of the Government of Eastern coal field Limited, a subsidiary of Coal India Limited in the year 2008 and associated with a polytechnic(Government of West Bengal) as a guest lecturer.
