Crush

I see butterflies when I see your face
I hear birds chirping when I hear you speak I feel a sweet caress when our skin touches There's a spark I can't conceal when accidentally our eyes meet.

As you pass by my side, I can't even look at you Because I am guilty of something I believe is true I'm no longer a teenager yet I'm acting like one I think I've got a crush on you and gosh it makes me feel young.

Yes! This is my shameless revelation
A thank you note to give credit on what you've done
It's not intentional but you're making that mark
A positive mark that revitalizes my arrhythmic heart.

Now, my cardiac rhythm is in sync
For those doses of ecstasy completed the missing link
The last thing I realized, I'm in the state of euphoria Melancholic episodes have finally subsided, and oh yes, happiness is no longer depleted.

Yet, this feeling is transient, so temporary
It comes yet it goes like birds that are migratory
In the end this crushing thing will crash
To my subconscious memory destined neither to be remembered nor to last

In Her Heart

in her heart lies that precious gift that nobody can touch nor see it it is guarded and buried deep in a fertile place that never sleeps.

it is tiny yet huge it maybe rough sometimes but it can become smooth it can be silent yet loud sometimes it's broken but it still stands proud.

My Reality

i caught the fire burning before your eyes i heard the whisper of the wind that never lies i felt your touch that never stings till the end of no ending my love, let's keep the joy it brings.

you gave me life after near death you gave your NOW when Later is too late you taught me to stop when i start to lose control you treated me so special when i feel like a fool.

you're my Savior from gloomy days my inspiration in your own unique ways you're my someone i can't seem to get enough of because every little thing you do brings magic that turns me on.

life becomes dull without you yet, when you're around it gives me an amazing hue that pushes me out from my fantasies and pulls me to the world of my real story.

Pen And Paper

When better days go away
When old friends seem to be busy When tears fall like gushing blood
When heart is struck by a lightning rod.

When the sun leaves the moon
When fireflies flee to rome
When rubber is stretched to its limit
When chocolates melt under the heat.

When a stare can kill When words work like laser
When a touch becomes highly infectious When mind fails till it completely narrows.

When a present turns to be an ex
When a friend becomes your next When right foot don't compliment your left When you're going down and nobody gives a lift.

When you're dancing with a broken music
When you're eating an ice cream you can't even lick
When you see black instead of red
When a hug sets fire on a waterbed.

When you becomes a shadow and your shadow becomes you When cold dark nights gives you a flu
When time moves quickly in reverse
When a mega asteroid hits the universe.

When the summit is too steep to climb
When dreams can't keep you alive
When pages matter more than the contents
When tamed man's bestfriend resorts to violence.

When a smile meant nothing more than nothing
When power in you reigns yet you can't do everything
When rejection spoils the desire to breathe
When insomnia strikes to steal your sleep.

When candid shots tell the real story
When you expected roses yet you're given hay
When a taste of love blurs your vision
When you wanna keep on fighting though you can't find the reason

When a favorite shoe don't fit anymore
When you walk on tiptoes along the seashore
When you wanted A's yet you're given C's
When it only takes a flaw to get down on your knees.

When the crossroads of life build confusion
When both negatives create a deadly fusion
When joy is dulled by a deceiving silhouette
When you wanna laugh out loud and you don't want to fret

When a tiny dust gets into your eyes
When you planted honesty yet harvested crates of lies
When you can hardly sip a pure water
When the future don't come together like it's made of raw flour.

When your world is tumbling down When forced to wear a thorny crown
When things you cherish falls apart
When sadness creeps to the depths of your heart.

When all good things become worst When pessimism breaks through your walls Write it all down and it will be better All you've got to do is TRUST your mighty friends named PEN AND PAPER.

sweet mystique

To My One Great Love

i was half dead when you came my heart was beating slow, i felt so lame i can see you from the darkest side without a little hope that you can make me feel alive when the invisible conversation begun i felt ordinary, melting under the sun waiting to be consumed by my own loneliness and just live another day, treat it meaningless so the days gone by unnoticed to hate love forever became my biggest wish for in this state, i can be the master of my emotions that made my life bitter.

until my strange thoughts haunted me i felt something my heart was eager to see but i'm a warrior and i can defeat it everything must be in place before it's too late.

i fought harder and harder but the thoughts kept coming back it is clearer the shield i built quietly loses its power till i finally figured out that i am my own traitor

i can no longer resist that growing love i wanted to hide it but i just can't it was like a bomb about to explode anytime and i know i have to free myself before i could die out of nowhere, those words came out letting each other know what's inside our head the words that i abhor is now given to somebody like you, i believe to be heaven sent.

i never expected that you will love me and be happy at the end of the day but you cheered and lightened me up you said you love me and you meant it truly love has bloomed between us though its your first, i consider it my LAST every air i take is a breath of you and me that gives life to the two souls destined to be.

but despite the clear and still waters comes troubled and raging seas it spoiled the happiness i long to keep leaving me blind, i can't stop to leak.

trust became a never ending issue my past had been a big deal for you and by the time you started digging you're placing me in that horrible coffin.

a month of bumpy and unsure ride we had hesitations that we cannot deny but love still prevails after a weary mood and it all ends in sweetness shown for good.

now I've finally found the one i can count on when i have nowhere to run my dying heart is perfectly resuscitated your love's a disease, i want it left untreated.

sweet mystique

Whenever

Whenever I'm weary and troubled Whenever I'm sick and alone
I can feel you inside me
The greatest love I have ever known.

Whenever I stumble and fall Whenever I cry and show a smile
I can see the light, Your holy light Then I can face everything with all my might.

Whenever I am haunted by the ghosts of my past Whenever the noise of the earth makes me deaf
I can hear the gentle, Your very gentle whisper Loud enough to make me feel better.

Through all my senses You are with me
The good things in this world, You made me see I am happier now with everything there is Thanks for reminding me how much I am blessed.

sweet mystique

Will You?

you came around uninvited with the promises heard a million times believed in you without hesitations felt your love that lifted me high will you stay a little longer?

hold my hand a little tighter kiss me with a burning desire melt the ice, wrap me on fire.

will you chase my blues away?
bring happiness that never sway keep your eyes straight to mine hypnotize me like a vampire.

will you drive away the rain?
so the sun will shine without pain will you save me amidst of the storm?
take me to a place where peace is born.

will you play the guitar for me?
hear my heart that sings freely will you prepare a box of bandage?
so you can fix me when I'm wounded.

sweet mystique

You Are But A Dream

You are the language that I speak You're the only air that I breathe
You are the light when my world gets dark You are the only person who captured my heart

You are the island where I found security
You are the rainbow that colors my life everyday
You are the most expensive pearl in the deepest sea Yours is the only love that I can see

You are the rose among the thorns You're my warmth when the night gets cold You're the only pen that I can write You're the song that I will sing for life

You're the pillow where my head rests You're the water that obeys my thirst You're my shield in a crowded place
In your arms my dear, this life of mine is never a waste

You love me and I love you
We found happiness that's so true
But this love of ours should always end Goodbye to you my love, I need to wake up again.
