

Poetry Series

yusra ghassan
- poems -

Publication Date:
2008

Publisher:
Poemhunter.com - The World's Poetry Archive

yusra ghassan()

Sometimes

sometimes you may forget sometimes people may forget how nature have a power how the words have a magic a magic come from the sky in birds feather with butterflies it have shine from long time ago to show the ancient where to go and now many butterflies have gone and many birds feather the air have take and we still dont now the truth did the magic still or it goes because the people have forget the magic source the love the pureness the truth the magic is not just a words its love inside children hearts its like one child wishing a wish putting his hand on his heart and say i wish the spring wind bring with it the lost magic source
the love the pureness the truth

yusra ghassan